

Kansas Choses Harman

TOPEKA (AP) — Rick Harman, 39, of Fairway, owner of a chain of restaurants, won Republican nomination for governor in the Kansas primary over Lt. Gov. John Crutcher.

Harman's margin was reduced to less than 3,000 votes. With only two of the state's 3,243 precincts still unreported, Harman led Crutcher 133,384 to 130,518.

The margin by Harman was reduced by 20,000 after the discovery of a key punch error in the preparation of cards for computers.

The error was in the Leavenworth county total. Harman erroneously had been given a lead of 23,240 to 1,376 in Leavenworth county. That was one digit too much for Harman, and his vote in the county should have been 2,324.

Rep. Bob Dole, 45, congressman from the sprawling 52-county 1st District of Western Kansas, thwarted a comeback bid by former Gov. William H. Avery to win Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Dole apparently will face William I. Robinson, a 57-year-old Wichita attorney and businessman, in the general election in a bid for the seat to be vacated by the retirement of Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan.

James K. Logan, 38, former dean of the University of Kansas Law School, conceded the nomination to Robinson early Wednesday at a time when the outcome still appeared in doubt.

On the basis of unofficial returns from all but 170 of the state's 3,243 voting units, Harman had 147,023 votes to 119,966 for Crutcher.

Results Of Area Contests

In area counties balloting was generally light, as was the pattern in Pettis County. Unofficial returns give the following results of county races:

Johnson County — In the Republican race for sheriff, John Self defeated Walter Hall 328 to 301. In the prosecuting attorney race Democratic Prosecuting Attorney Stanley Braton defeated Floyd Cook by a vote of 1,747 to 415.

Benton County — Robert Breshears defeated Sheriff Lawrence Phifer, his closest challenger, by a vote of 1,726 to 328 in the Republican race. In the Republican assessor's contest, Glen Coffey won over his closest challenger, Shelley Bybee, by a vote of 788 to 551. Six candidates were entered.

Saline County — There were three races contested in Tuesday's primary. Two of the Democratic winners will face Republican opponents in November.

Henry Hoff, with 4,298 votes, walked away with the sheriff's race with Walter Wade, the Democratic incumbent, getting 1,709. There are reportedly 800 absentee ballots yet to be counted.

For assessor, a five-way split. Cecil Jacobi won with a narrow margin of 1,589 over Joe Bruns, who got 1,543.

The Democratic nomination for judge of the County Court, second district, went to A. H. Jones, who got 1,058 votes, with Lee Lineberry getting 810.

A Happy Winner

Happy over his primary victory, Missouri Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton throws up his arms after late returns showed him defeating incumbent U.S. Senator Edward V. Long. Eagleton won in three-way race for the Democratic nomination to the Senate over Sen. Long and True Davis of St. Joseph. Mrs. Eagleton stands next to the lieutenant governor. (UPI)

County Balloting Light For Primary Election

Pettis County turned out one of the lightest primary votes in many years when a total of 3,895 Democrats and 1,261 Republicans went to the polls to

On the Republican side, Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, Webster Groves, got 934; Morris DeWayne Duncan, Kansas City, 125; Forest Nave, Jr., Lexington, 202.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, seeking re-election, had an easier time in the county this year than four years ago, smothering his opponents with 3,203 votes, while Milton cast their votes. The extreme heat was blamed by politicians for the light vote.

True Davis, St. Joseph, polled 1,525 votes against 1,240 for Thomas F. Eagleton, lieutenant governor, St. Louis, and Sen. Edward V. Long of Bowling Green, who collected 1,092. Token votes were received by three other candidates, William McKinley Thomas, St. Louis, 25; Lee Sutton, Paris, nine; and Beverly Kitchen, St. Louis, four, for the Democratic nomination.

US Is Ready To Release Red Seamen

PARIS (AP) — The United States told North Vietnam at the Paris peace talks today that 14 captured North Vietnamese seamen will be released. Last week three U.S. fliers, released by the North Vietnamese, came out of Hanoi.

The North Vietnamese handled their release of the airmen mainly through the peace talks and the United States responded using the same channel with an obvious interest in tying the goodwill gestures into the search for peace.

The peace probes themselves were conducted in today's meeting—the 16th session.

Ambassador Ha Van Lau of North Vietnam spurned a recent demand by Secretary of State Dean Rusk for some authoritative word from Hanoi on how North Vietnam would respond to a total halt in the U.S. bombing.

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, going into the conference, said North Vietnam had infiltrated 30,000 troops into the South in July and failed to show any of the restraint asked by President Johnson.

VC Supply Area Is Hit By Task Force

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S.-South Vietnamese task force invaded a major Viet Cong supply depot and killed 219 enemy soldiers in a week of clashes that took American infantrymen deeper into the Mekong Delta than ever before, military spokesmen announced today.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said there were no allied fatalities and only six U.S. infantrymen and three South Vietnamese marines were wounded. A spokesman attributed the unusual kill ratio to American helicopter gunships and artillery, which were credited with killing most of the claimed enemy dead.

The fighting swirled in and out of three provinces centered about 125 miles southwest of Saigon on the fringes of the U Minh forest, a Viet Cong sanctuary virtually untouched by government troops for more than 20 years.

Armored troop carriers from the U.S. Navy's Riverine Force moved up and down the rivers and canals with gunboat escorts, carrying more than 1,000 American infantrymen from the 9th Division and 500 South Vietnamese marines into action.

Razing of County Jail Sought in Bid Request

The old Pettis County jail, 200 South Lamine, closed since mid-June, is to be torn down.

In an announcement Wednesday, the County Court said that bids will be received by the court until Sept. 15 for the complete razing of the building and leveling of the grounds.

Presiding Judge Henry Lamm said the future of the grounds is uncertain, adding, "The building is an eyesore; is apt to fall down at any time and for safety reasons it must come down now. We of the court are not sure of future plans for the grounds after the building is removed."

The old building has been a subject of controversy since the turn of the century. Every grand jury convened since the 1890s, whose duty is to inspect the jail, has condemned the structure. Several moves to acquire a new jail have been initiated and each attempt has failed.

A few years ago, prisoners began to escape all too frequently. One time three escapees, after recapture, were asked how they dug the hole in the wall, told the sheriff they had dug through the rotten bricks with teaspoons.

When the situation worsened, Sheriff Emmett Fairfax began boarding up prisoners he considered apt to try to escape. Finally, in June, when the bricks began to fall out of the structure without the help of even a spoon, the sheriff notified the County Court he planned to close the building.

The court agreed and ordered the building vacated. In a short while all prisoners were removed and supervisory personnel moved out.

Long Is Defeated In Primary Battle

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lt. Gov. Thomas F. Eagleton, 39, of St. Louis, a brilliant speaker who conducted a hard hitting campaign, defeated U. S. Sen. Edward V. Long in Missouri's hot contest for the Democratic senatorial nomination Tuesday.

A poor third was True Davis, wealthy St. Joseph businessman who is a former ambassador to Switzerland and former assistant secretary of the treasury.

With the vote in from 4,258 of 4,358 precincts, the count was Eagleton 209,057, Long 190,742 and Davis 167,616.

Long was attacked by Life magazine for alleged associations with shady leaders of the Teamsters' and Steamfitters' unions in St. Louis.

He denied the charges as a political smear and in the closing days of the campaign tried to make political capital of them.

Long gained attention in the Senate by attacking snooping by The Internal Revenue Service and other governmental agencies, as well as wiretapping and "bugging" of offices.

He is 60, a lawyer and banker, and formerly was Missouri lieutenant governor and state senator. He has served in the Senate since 1960, when he was appointed to succeed the late Thomas C. Hennings of St. Louis.

Long and Eagleton broke about even in outstate Missouri, which was carried by Davis. Long had the edge in Kansas City and St. Louis but Eagleton's big margin in St. Louis County more than made up the difference.

Eagleton, who is finishing his first term as lieutenant governor, formerly was Missouri attorney general and St. Louis circuit attorney.

There was no contest for the governorship nominations.

Both Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes and Republican Lawrence K. Roos, St. Louis County supervisor, had only token opposition.

Committee Seats Won By Demos

The winners in contested races for committeeman and committeewoman for the Democratic Party in Sedalia and Pettis County are as follows:

First Ward, Second Precinct — Winston Ream 140, over L. C. Matthews, 103.

Fourth Ward, Second Precinct — Floyd H. Priddy, 97, over Charles E. Ramseyer, 66.

Flat Creek — Mrs. John Paul, 36, over Margaret Goss, 32.

Green Ridge — Forrest Calvert, 83 over Lloyd Brown, 41.

Sedalia — James Heck, 60, over Eugene Herrick, 48.

Smithton — John Gibbins, 60, over Clarence Hiltnerberg, 28, and James Paul, 15.

Results of the Washington Township race for committeeman between Oliver C. Renfrow and Lee Harold Short, and between Mrs. Leon Morgan and Mrs. L. W. Ragar for committeewoman were not available at press time.

Retail Food Price Increase Is Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail food prices are expected to average 3½ per cent higher this year over last, the Department of Agriculture said today.

The gain in 1967 from a year earlier averaged less than one per cent, the department said in a report on the national food situation.

Food prices appear to be leveling off a bit, with increases for the last three months of 1968 estimated to be smaller than those earlier in the year, the department said.

The price of food for home use this year is expected to average three per cent higher than in 1967, while food consumed away from home will average about five per cent higher.

The department said prices are up for fruits, vegetables, meats, poultry, eggs, dairy products and soft drinks. Holding at last year's levels or decreased are coffee, potatoes, fats and oils, cereal and bakery products, and fish products.

had no serious competition for the Republican senatorial nomination.

The Democratic contest for lieutenant governor was the other hot statewide race but William S. Morris of Kansas City, Jackson County public administrator, won handily over Edward L. Dowd, former president of the St. Louis Police Board.

Others finished far down the list. The Republican nominee is state Sen. Lem T. Jones Jr. of Kansas City.

Atty. Gen. Norman H. Anderson of Ferguson also was successful in beating off the challenge of Russell Millin of Kansas City, former U.S. district attorney.

Facing Anderson in November will be John C. Danforth, Creve Coeur Republican.

Other state races went as predicted with William E. Robinson winning the Democratic nomination for treasurer and the Republican nod going to William T. Zimmerman of Warrenton.

For secretary of state, incumbent Democrat James C. Kirkpatrick had no primary opposition. The Republican winner was Murray C. Colbert of Montgomery City.

Veteran state Sen. Michael Kinney, 94, who has been in the Senate since 1913, was upset by a young Negro leader, Rep. Ray Howard, in the predominantly Negro 5th District of St. Louis.

Steel Price Reductions Announced by Bethlehem

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. cut its recent price hikes almost in half today to remain competitive with U.S. Steel, which had announced new but more modest price increases earlier in the day.

Less than two hours after U.S. Steel, the nation's No. 1 producer, announced price raises on steels used in huge quantities by the auto and appliance industries, No. 2-ranked Bethlehem said it was chopping its prices.

Bethlehem said its general price increase of 5 per cent was being cut to 2.4 per cent on all its products. A spokesman said the cut was made "to be competitive with those of U.S. Steel."

And Inland steel, another big producer, said it would "remain competitive in all its product lines."

There was no immediate official government reaction to Bethlehem's announcement.

However, the President's Council of Economic Advisers said in Washington that U.S. Steel's increase was roughly half the initial hikes of other steel producers, including Bethlehem and Republic, and not so inflationary.

Council chairman Arthur M. Okun said, "It is gratifying that the U.S. Steel action significantly reduced the threat of a large and general inflation in steel prices."

The Texas White House said, it expected no direct comment from President Johnson. There has been no official government guideline on what would be an acceptable increase.

Government officials have referred to the 2-2½ per cent range claimed by U.S. Steel as its overall hike as being more reasonable than the across-the-board hike of 5 per cent announced by Bethlehem.

Okun's statement was seen as a broad hint that the government might put aside efforts to beat down prices if companies still on the fence followed the lead of U.S. Steel.

The new prices for the Bethlehem will go into effect Aug. 16 instead of previously announced Aug. 8, said the spokesman.

The announcements appeared to indicate that the industry would not completely roll back its price hikes because of opposition by President Johnson, but was prepared to settle for smaller boosts.

Among the products that U.S. Steel boosted today was hot rolled sheet and strip and cold rolled sheets. These are used for making auto bodies and appliances, such as refrigerators and stoves.

Doctors Say Ike Had Major Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors said today the heart attack suffered by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday was a major one equal in severity to Eisenhower's earlier major attacks. They said the outlook was "guarded," or unpredictable.

Doctors of Walter Reed Army Hospital said so in answer to questions submitted by newsmen.

But in a formal medical bulletin they said they were "satisfied with his current progress," and that he had spent a comfortable night.

In answer to questions, they said Eisenhower is receiving oxygen continuously as a treatment.

The doctors had been asked this question:

"How does the general's present heart attack compare in severity with his previous ones, especially the attack of June 15?"

The answer was: "Equal severity."

Eisenhower has suffered five earlier heart attacks, several of them including the last previous one on June 15 rated as major.

The doctors replied "negative" and "not pertinent" to questions whether they had considered a heart transplant for Eisenhower, and whether a person with his history of heart trouble would be an eligible candidate for a new heart.

As to the outlook in Eisenhower's case, the doctors' reply was: "The prognosis in the early days following any myocardial infarction is 'guarded.' The word 'guarded' means that in this early period after any heart attack, the outcome is unpredictable."

Smoother Path Ahead for Nixon

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Picking up important new strength down the stretch, Richard M. Nixon appeared headed Wednesday toward first-ballot nomination as the Republican candidate for president.

His chief challenger, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, said the former vice president could be stopped if the favorite son states did not panic. But Nixon evidently was making inroads within these delegations in the last hours before Wednesday night's balloting.

Brimming confidence, he passed the word that he would remain in his hotel command post during the day while Rockefeller and the third man in the race, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, hustled among the delegations looking for votes.

Nixon was reported fixing his thoughts on a running mate. A top party official said he was convinced Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon would be the choice.

With signs of buckling among the camps of favorite son candidates, Rockefeller pleaded with the crucial New Jersey delegation to hold the line, to avoid panic.

"One of the finest jobs of propaganda done in the last three days has been done by Dick Nixon's people to convince the delegates that Dick Nixon has it wrapped up," he told a caucus.

"He is not going to have it wrapped up unless the delegates panic."

New Jersey carries 40 big votes. They have been behind the state's liberal senator, Clifford P. Case.

Rockefeller told them: "If four delegations stick with favorite sons—Michigan, New Jersey, Ohio and Kansas—then this is an open convention."

The New Yorker began the day with an appeal to 120 delegates and alternates from 13 Western states. He hammered the dominant theme of the anti-Nixon forces — that Nixon couldn't win in November.

"To pick a man who can't win would be a tragedy for the country," Rockefeller told newsmen.

Reagan, in a more relaxed criticism of the front-runner, said if Nixon went off to the Soviet Union before the election, as he said he might, he "would undercut the power" of President Johnson.

The Rockefeller and Reagan fortunes are pinned to keeping favorite son candidacies alive through the first couple of ballots. Their battle plans are to prevent an early Nixon victory, and hope that the tide for him would ebb on subsequent rounds.

The favorite son governor of Alaska, Walter J. Hickel, cut into these hopes by announcing at a Nixon-sponsored news conference that he was urging the state's 12 delegates to go for Nixon on the first ballot. Hickel said his own name might not even be placed in nomination.

In California, where all 86 delegates are lined up behind Reagan, some 25 would vote for Nixon "if they were turned loose freely," Hickel said.

In the Michigan delegation, where Gov. George Romney is a favorite son and possibly harboring real ambitions for the White House, there was a report of a drive to break away for Nixon.

Another 194 delegates were lined up behind favorite sons, 71 were uncommitted and two were for New York City's Mayor John V. Lindsay. Needed for victory: 667.

One of the men close to Nixon said he would not be surprised if the former vice president offered second place on the ticket to Rockefeller. He said he thought that under some circumstances Rockefeller might accept.

New Area In History Explored

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—The sky was almost as dark as the coal dust that covered the Pennsylvania earth. "Looks bad for shooting today," muttered director Martin Ritt. He had no real grounds for complaint. In three months of filming "The Molly Maguires" in the tiny mining community of Eckley, Pa., he had managed to shoot at least part of every day. Now, as the company was finishing the location to leave for six weeks of interior filming in Hollywood, the movie was only four days behind schedule. Soon the summer skies opened up, and the rain made shooting impractical, so the schedule was changed to a night sequence with Richard Harris and Samantha Eggar, who star in "The Molly Maguires" with Sean Connery.

The Paramount production concerns the labor movement and social ills, both of which have been neglected on the screen. In fact, much of American history has been overlooked, except for the over-worked saga of the West.

"This is no social document," assured the writer and coproducer, Walter Bernstein. "We're not trying to show the condition of the miners or to make a sociological study. We are telling a strong dramatic story in a historical context."

The Molly Maguires are still remembered in the mining towns of northeastern Pennsylvania. They were Irish immigrants who formed a secret society to combat the miserable conditions in the mines and company-owned towns. The height of their power came with the strike of 1875-76 which was broken with the help of an Irish informer. That is the role that Harris plays.

"The Molly Maguires" stemmed from Bernstein's studies at Dartmouth 27 years ago. He became acquainted with the history of the Irish radicals and wanted to dramatize those violent times. The opportunity came with Ritt, who shared his enthusiasm for the project. They had met on the "You Are There" television series, which dealt with historical events as if they were news stories.

"Ten years ago, I wouldn't have been allowed to make this picture," remarked Ritt. "Well, maybe I could have made it, but I would have had to bring it in at a low cost. But Paramount has gone along with us all the way."

All the way to the tune of $8 million, which is quite a distance. The cost included building a $200,000, 96-foot coal breaker and restoring the company town of Eckley—population 86—to the 1870s. That involved stringing utility lines underground, installing a TV cable to replace housetop antennas, and covering the paved streets with earth and coal dust. Old-timers say the illusion is startling.

New U.S. jetliners are 62 per cent faster than the latest piston-engine aircraft, and carry 70 per cent more load.

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill visited the Winston Churchill Memorial Monday.

The visiting Churchills are from Des Moines, Iowa. They stopped by at the memorial while on their way to Missouri's Lake of the Ozarks.

Churchill said he didn't know for sure whether he was any relation to the late Sir Winston. He said an elderly aunt once told him he was related to the English leader.

PARIS (AP) — One of the Duke of Windsor's properties, the Moulin de la Tuilerie, is on sale—for $1.2 million.

The house, once a mill built in the middle of the 18th century, is a few miles south of Paris. It has 20 main rooms, 10 service rooms and 6 bathrooms.

The garden of 23 acres was designed by the duke.

LONDON (AP) — A major British movie chain has cut planned London screenings of the Beatles cartoon movie "Yellow Submarine," saying its box office take has fallen below expectations.

The Rank Organization, which controls more than 300 movie theaters throughout Britain, said plans for general distribution—normally automatic with a successful film—are being given a second look.

The movie, based on 18 Beatles songs, is a fantasy telling of an attack by "Blue Meanies" on a once happy land.

CALIFORNIA — The C.W.F. of the First Christian Church met Wednesday evening with 37 members and three guests present. Mrs. Luther Garnett, president, conducted the business meeting and announced the committees that will serve Aug. 28 when the California church will be hostess to the Quad-County meeting. Women from the churches of Cole, Miller, Camden, and Montebau counties are expected to attend.

Mrs. Robert McCarty was hostess July 30 to the Sunnyside Extension Club in her home. The 4-H Club members were in charge of the program, presenting either a demonstration or a talk. The next meeting will be at the annual family picnic, Aug. 27, at Liberty Park.

Mrs. Ina Elmore, 1108 North Osage, observed her 68th birthday anniversary with relatives and friends, Sunday, July 28. A smorgasbord dinner was served to approximately 85 persons, many of whom were out-of-town guests.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist. Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge...small, easy-to-take tablets...special doses for children and adults.

Accidents

A 1968 Oldsmobile, owned by Eula D. Richter, 64, 317 West Sixth, was involved in a hit-and-run accident while it was parked on the Safeway parking lot Monday.

Damage was to the left side of the Oldsmobile.

A 1968 Volkswagen, owned by Ronald K. Lyles, 21, 1008 East Seventy, was involved in a hit-and-run accident while it was parked on the MFA parking lot, 212 West Pacific, Tuesday morning.

Damage was to the left rear of the Volkswagen.

No injuries were reported in a one-car accident at the intersection of Broadway and Industrial Drive at 7:40 p.m. Tuesday.

Involved was a 1964 Ford, driven west on Broadway by Richard H. Koci, 47, Shawnee Mission, Kan.

According to the police report, Koci's car ran off the edge of the pavement onto the roadbed under construction near the railroad tracks.

Damage was to the right front of the Ford, which was towed from the scene of Darnell's wrecker.

An accident in the parking lot of Garst's Drive In in the 100 block of East Broadway at 10:37 p.m. Tuesday involved a 1963 Chevrolet driven by James Lampman, 24, Des Moines, Ia., and a 1966 Chevrolet driven by Russell D. Stone, Kansas City.

According to the police report, damage was minor, and was continued to the rear of the Lampman vehicle.

Magistrate Court

John Spratley, 19, and Joyce Harp, 19, appeared before Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong Wednesday, charged in a state complaint by Prosecuting Attorney Henry Keeler with second degree burglary and stealing in connection with the alleged theft of several power tools and other articles from the James Adams farm, Route 5, last April.

Similarly charged is John Stuart, 20. Spratley has been released on a $2,500 bond. The bond placed on Harp was $1,000, with Stuart's bond set at $2,500.

The case was continued until Sept. 10.

Reservists' Petition Is Denied

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A federal judge has denied a petition by 113 Ohio Army Reservists to be released from active duty.

In a 14-page opinion Tuesday, Judge Frank A. Kaufman of U.S. District Court ruled that a law authorizing the President to call reservists was applicable to them even though they enlisted before the law became effective on Oct. 15, 1966.

The Reservists, stationed at nearby Ft. Meade, Md., had challenged the constitutionality of the law and contended Congress could not delegate to the President the power to call them to active duty.

Their attorneys contended the men had a contract with the U.S. government under the law in effect when they joined the reserves, and that it was violated and abridged by the application of the 1966 statute.

Counsel also argued that the 1966 law, as applied to them, constituted a denial of equal protection of the law and violated the separation of powers doctrine.

Judge Kaufman said that under the law in effect when the men enlisted, the President was authorized to call reserves into active duty in time of national emergency "or when otherwise authorized by law."

The reservists were ordered to active duty as a unit last May 13, for two years' service. They had been on inactive duty with the 1002nd Supply and Service Company in Cleveland, Ohio.

Morris, Kansas City, received 349; and Robert B. Curtis, St. Louis, 287.

Lawrence K. Roos, Ladue, also had an easy time getting 943 votes for the Republican nomination for governor, while his opponents, Harry C. Timmerman, Hazelwood, received 233 and Harvey F. Euge, St. Louis, 72.

The heated lieutenant governor race between eight candidates for the Democratic nomination, W. S. "Bill" Morris, Kansas City, received 1,768 votes and his strongest opponent, Edward L. Dowd, St. Louis, 1,006, with Sen. John E. Downs, St. Joseph, 526, James W. "Jim" Shaffer, Independence, got 133; Daniel Preston Williams, Clayton, 43; Bill Beeny, Wright City, 76; Scott Ousley, Rolla, 63; and Bill Bangert, Champ, 47.

Lem T. Jones, Jr., Kansas City, collected the big end of the Republican votes of 667; George R. Hart, Maplewood, 331; and James Pirtle, Festus, 224 for the lieutenant governor slot on their ticket.

For secretary of state, James C. "Jim" Kirkpatrick, Windsor, had clear sailing for that nomination for re-election on the Democratic ticket, 3,123 votes.

Murray C. Colbert, Montgomery City, picked up 711 votes for the GOP nomination in this county while Maurice S. Karner, Creve Coeur, had 448 for secretary of state.

For the Democratic nomination for state treasurer, the perennial campaigner, L. E. Morris of Jefferson City, surprisingly collected 1,709 votes; William E. Robinson, also of Jefferson City, 856; Frank Haggerty, Jefferson City, 528; James "Jim" E. Ratcliff, Kansas City, 203; Donald V. Nangle, St. Louis, 155.

On the Republican ticket for state treasurer, William T. Zimmerman, Warrenton, got 836 votes and W. H. "Bill" Macon, Frontenac, 360.

Attorney General Norman Anderson was given 2,570 votes for the Democratic nomination for re-election; Russell Millin, Kansas City, 643, and John E. Homser, Marshfield, 278.

For the Republican nomination for attorney general, John C. Danforth, Creve Coeur, received 952 and Joseph Furtaw, Hillsboro, 220.

Rep. William J. Randall, Independence, was unopposed but received 3,011 votes for the Democratic nomination for re-election and Leslie O. Olson, Lee's Summit, also unopposed, 986 for the Republican nomination for the Fourth District U.S. House seat.

State Rep. Joe F. Rains, unopposed in the 115th District for the Democratic nomination and for re-election, received 2,579 votes.

The Republican nomination for the 115th District went to George H. Miller, city councilman, who defeated Dean Edwards for the nomination 530 to 330.

In the 116th District, R. H. "Hank" Monsees of Route 2, Sedalia, received 334 votes against 115 for incumbent Dr. Guss Salley, of Warsaw, for the south half of Pettis County and the First Precincts of the Third and Fourth Wards. Dr. Salley won the nomination, however, with a large vote in Benton County of 1,634 compared to 761 for Monsees and in St. Clair County of 260, compared to 134 for Monsees.

Morran D. Harris, of Osceola, Democratic candidate for representative of the 116th District was unopposed, however, he received from the south half of Pettis County and the two Sedalia precincts 639 votes. In Benton County he got 363 votes and St. Clair County 336 votes.

On the county level, incumbent E. L. "Red" Birdsong, seeking the Democratic nomination and re-election as judge of the Pettis County Court from the eastern district, won over T. M. "Tom" Morarity and Earl R. Albers. He received 1,657 votes, Morarity 953 and Albers 475 for the nomination. For the western district, Lt. Col. Sam G. Tuck, Houstonia, was unopposed for the nomination, receiving 597 votes.

The Republican candidate for the eastern district judgeship is James W. Atkinson, Sedalia, unopposed, who got 790 votes. Judge Zeb Thomas, Route 2, LaMonte, seeking re-election without opposition in the western district, received 321 votes.

The Democrats have no candidate for Pettis County prosecuting attorney, while Henry A. Keeler, prosecuting attorney, unopposed, received 1,120 votes for the Republican nomination.

Sheriff Emmett W. Fairfax, Democrat, unopposed in the primary and also in the general election, received 3,624 votes.

Jerry Trotter, incumbent assessor and unopposed, received 3,329 votes for the Democratic nomination while the Republican candidate, Raymond Wasson, Route 2,

APPOINTED — According to an announcement by Tass, the Soviet press agency, Gen. Sergei M. Shtemenko has been appointed Chief of Staff of the Warsaw Pact Armed Forces. He replaces Gen. Mikhail I. Kazakov, who is retiring for health reasons. Gen. Shtemenko, a leading Soviet Military figure in the last years of the Stalin era, was demoted in apparent disgrace after the Soviet leader's death, but has climbed slowly back. (UPI)

Weekend Settlement Expected

OTTAWA (AP) — The mail may move again in Canada by the weekend if the striking postmen accept an agreement reached after a marathon bargaining session that lasted nearly 31 hours. But considerable opposition among the strikers was reported.

A union spokesman in Vancouver said the proposed contract was disappointing and might be rejected by postal workers in British Columbia. Another spokesman predicted rejection in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Vancouver, Canada's four biggest cities. But union leaders in Montreal and Halifax said they would recommend approval of the agreement, and ratification appeared certain in London, Ont.

The agreement was announced late Tuesday afternoon following the almost nonstop meeting that began Sunday afternoon between negotiators for the government and the 24,000 postal workers who struck 20 days ago.

Terms of the agreement were not announced. But the workers are reportedly being asked to accept a 26-month contract that includes a two-stage wage increase of 39 cents an hour and is retroactive to Aug. 1, 1967. The strikers start voting on the contract today, and the results are expected by Friday. The union originally asked an increase of 75 cents an hour and a contract expiring Oct. 1.

Postal pay now averages $2.75 an hour. The reported increase averages out to 15 per cent, the guideline the federal government has set for negotiations with its employees this year.

Carpenter Dies In Fire at His Home

Mrs. John A. Patterson

Former Sedalian Takes Bride In Alabama Ceremony, July 26

BAILEYTON, ALA. — Edith Carol Farley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Farley, Baileyton, Alabama, and John A. Patterson, a former Sedalian, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Patterson, Huntsville, Alabama, were united in marriage at the Mt. Pisgah Upper Cumberland Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m., July 26, by the Rev. R. H. Ridgeway.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Norman Nunneley, the bride wore an empire-style white peau de soie gown, with re-embroidered Alencon lace jacket finished in white velvet bow and with a lace train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion attached to a crown of pearls, and she wore an heirloom necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a floral arrangement of white orchids.

Mrs. Patterson was attended by her sister, Mrs. Norman Nunneley. The matron of honor and bridesmaids, Miss Cristi Turner and Miss Rebecca Huddleston wore identically styled empire gowns in shades of dark and light green satin respectively.

The groom's father served as best man while ushering duties were performed by Ken Koleflat, Biloxi, Miss. and Jerry Sons, Huntsville, Ala. Michael Hunsucker, Huntsville, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Farley selected a beige ensemble with white accessories. The mother of the groom chose a blue ensemble with white accessories. Both mothers wore carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony the couple received guests at the church. Miss Linda Summerlin was in charge of the guest registry.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will be at home in Huntsville. Mr. Patterson is a 1964 graduate of Smith-Cotton High School.

Mexico City Girl Guides Plan a Visit in Sedalia

Two Girl Guides from Mexico City, Miss Jacqueline Butcher and Miss Claire Dawson, will be guests in Sedalia Aug. 10-12. These girls have been participating in an international exchange project for Senior Girl Scouts and Rangers from the U.S.A., Mexico, and Canada, and are guests of the Heart of Missouri Girl Scout Council through Aug. 19.

While in Sedalia, Miss Butcher and Miss Dawson will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weising, 1616 West 11th, and Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Lively, 1300 West Fourth.

Miss Butcher is 16, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Butcher, Mexico City. She has four sisters, speaks Spanish and English and enjoys ice skating, guitar playing and bicycle riding. Her father is a chemical engineer.

Miss Dawson, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson, Mexico City. She has one brother and one sister, speaks English, Spanish and French. She enjoys writing letters, collecting post cards, stamps, volunteer hospital work, camping, singing in groups, cooking, reading and sports.

In order to attend the conference in Mexico and visit a council in the United States, both had to fulfill many requirements. For example, they must be age 16-18 and members of good standing at home, must be able to speak one language other than their native language, and must remain in their own association for at least two years after the project to share knowledge and information gained.

On Aug. 10, Cadettes and Senior Scouts of Sedalia along with Cadettes and Seniors from Marshall, Sweet Springs, Slater and Glasgow will entertain their guests from Mexico with a Sing-Along at Camp Sacajawea at 7 p.m.

During their stay, the girls wish to become acquainted with Girl Scouting and American life in general in this part of the country and hope to broaden international understanding between Mexico and the United States. They also wish to share their experiences they have had at Our Cabana — an established Girl Scout Camp in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Julia Huffendick Is Feted With Bridal Shower

Miss Julia Huffendick was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Albert Strother in California.

Hostesses were Misses Mary and Cathy Huffendick and Diane Strother. They were assisted by Mrs. Dwight E. Strother, Hazelwood and Misses Nancy and Debbie Huffendick.

Games were played during the evening with prizes awarded to the winners.

A daisy umbrella formed the centerpiece of the lace covered gift table with white bells and ribbon bows, greenery and summer blossoms, accenting the arrangement. The serving table was covered with a matching lace cloth with green underlay and a miniature bride, surrounded by foliage, centered the table. Lighted tapers in crystal holders and matching serving pieces were used.

After the honoree opened her gifts, refreshments were served to the 25 present. Mrs. Arthur Huffendick, mother of the bride-elect, served the cake and Mrs. Albert Strother, mother of the prospective groom poured.

Miss Huffendick and Douglas Strother will be married Aug. 25 at the First Baptist Church, California.

Red Cross Shop Early

Christmas will come five months early to the Pettis County Chapter of the Red Cross. For the second successive year, the Red Cross chapter here is joining with others across the country in a nationwide project to make and fill gift bags to be distributed to U.S. servicemen and servicewomen stationed in Vietnam.

The bags are to be made of sturdy red and green cotton material, so they will be serviceable to their owners after the original contents are used. The effort is intended to be "a tangible way for Americans to say we care about our troops in Vietnam," Mrs. Bette Padgett, chairman of the Pettis County chapter, said.

"This is not exclusively a Red Cross program," Mrs. Padgett continued, "but a community-wide affair in which several organizations, groups, and business firms are participating. A number of individuals are cooperating with our chapter volunteers in sewing the bags; and, when the bags are finished, more volunteers will be needed to fill them. Each bag contains a holiday greeting card carrying the names of these contributors and the name of the local chapter.

Work on the bags has already begun and will continue until Pettis County's quota is finished. "With Oct. 15 the final deadline for shipping, the chapter is aiming at project completion by Sept. 20," Mrs. Padgett said.

California — Mrs. Judy Snodgrass was hostess to the Jaycee Belles of California at their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Doris Imhoff was elected to fill the office of vice-president and Mrs. Snodgrass, former vice-president took over the president's office. Following the evening's business, refreshments were served to ten members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Sandy Blank.

Green Ridge Garden Club met at the Green Ridge Baptist Church basement Friday for an all day meeting. Delegates were appointed to the West Central District meeting of Federated Garden Clubs convening in Sedalia at the new Christian Church, Sept. 24. Committees were appointed and plans made for exhibiting in the Floriculture Shows at the Missouri State Fair. The September meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Maude Ward. Mrs. Paul Read will present the program.

STITCHIN' TIME

Sew Without Stitches

By JOANNE SCHREIBER

Sewing is getting easier all the time! Now it's possible to sew without stitches, using an exciting new product that fuses two fabrics together neatly, and permanently, with the stroke of an iron.

It's different from other sewing aids like iron-on tape because it isn't a third fabric. It's a bonding or fusing agent, and it is recommended for neck, sleeve and front facings, for trims and appliques, for collars and cuffs, and for mending.

It certainly doesn't look like the newest miracle on the sewing front. It looks like plain old brown wrapping paper with a sort of invisible roughness on one side. That's the business side. That roughness is a web of invisible fibers which melt to form the fusion between materials.

To use it, cut the paper to the shape you want — say, a two-inch strip for turning up a hem. Place rough side down on the fabric. Press with a dry iron, and peel off the brown paper backing when it cools. Then turn up the hem, and steam-press in place.

The two layers of fabric will become fused together, and will stay put through washing or dry cleaning.

It's available where fabrics are sold. Pick up a piece and practice with it. It comes by the yard in 20-inch widths. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

THE SIDE SEAMS OF THIS DRESS are stitched, but the rest of it is put together with Wonder Under, a new sewing aid which fuses fabrics together. Neck and armhole facings, the hem, and all the rickrack trim are fused on quickly, easily and permanently. Ordinary jumbo rickrack (inset) has received a backing of a new iron-on tape.

POWDER LINE

By Judy Nix

As a devout advocate of the humanities, it grieves me deeply to witness so many of Life's noble monuments slipping into oblivion. Change for the sake of progress usually proves itself commendable, but change for the sake of change ought to be condemned.

Few things in life interest me less than the whereabouts of a "good ten-cent cigar" and, though I do often wonder what has become of poetry with periods and paintings depicting people, what I really want to know is whatever happened to the woman whose formidable glances prompted some men to action, whose unspoken words prompted other men to prose, and whose generous heart prompted no man to forget her.

...Alas and alack, they tell me she was last seen pursuing that "gentleman" who dares not look her in the eye, who calls his wife names he'd not repeat to his son, and whose pride cannot bear the price of an unselfish gesture.

While flipping through a very old set of encyclopedias, I happened upon three delightful, somewhat antiquated, articles on "bathing." It struck me that so much space was devoted to such a common procedure, but, as I read on, I realized that bathing was a not-so-common practice among our late relatives.

Oddly enough, bathing caught on about the same time deodorants, shampoos and mouthwash were having their advent. Only then did we become convinced that our personal hygiene left something to be desired. As any good salesman realizes though, products establish their own need rather than our needs instigating new products. This must be some of that progress we've spoken of because such products have been a bull to the economy. We spend billions of dollars annually on bathing materials.

And yet, I can almost hear my dear deceased grandmother asking "what" got me so dirty?

Cardigans Are Well-Knit Pair

HIS AND HERS CARDIGANS are a well-knit pair. Knitting directions for both toppers are available in a leaflet.

By JUDY LOVE

Two's company — very good company, when it comes to knits and well-knit couples.

Very often, notable couples share the same spotlight. Show business is no business without its famous twosomes. Alfred Lind performed with his wife, Lynn Fontanne. Steve Lawrence is currently sharing the Broadway spotlight with his spouse, Eydie Gorme and Richard Burton stars with Elizabeth Taylor.

Apart from well-knit couples, knits themselves can make a perfect pair, especially from a needleworker's viewpoint. The sweaters I'm showing today are a good example.

The woman's cardigan is easy to knit in stockinette with a cabled pattern for textured detailing. The vertical cables and deep V-neckline all point in the right direction — to shape you into sleek, slim lines. You can knit it quickly for your round wear in big-needle Shakerspun yarn (by Bernat). Knitting directions for small, medium and large suit sizes 10 to 20.

The man's cardigan is a classic design with action-ready raglan shaping on the sleeves. Knit it in easy-care Berella yarn to fit sizes 40 to 46.

Knit Knacks

On any cardigan you knit, be exact in marking the placement of buttons to avoid pulling or blooming between each button. By using your thread to form a stem or shank on a button, you'll avoid buttonhole spread and puckering.

For a leaflet giving directions for making both toppers, send 50 cents to "Stitchin' Time," care Sedalia Democrat Capital, P.O. Box 50, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Please ask for leaflet No. 145 and include your name, address and zip code.

Studies in Contrast

These were just a few of the faces visible on the convention floor during the second session of the Republican National Convention in Miami. (UPI)

American Nazi Party's Image Undergoes Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—One year after the assassination of its founder—George Lincoln Rockwell—the American Nazi party, its name changed, appears outwardly more prosperous, more sophisticated. But its private papers, disclose deep splits with several factions competing for a control of the tiny movement.

What apparently is the principal Nazi organization now known as the National Socialist White Peoples Party, NSWPP—has bought a two-story building in a quiet middle-class neighborhood in suburban Arlington, Va.

There, in a second floor office that is carpeted wall-to-wall in deep red, Matthias Koehl Jr., 33, presides as national leader. Seated beneath a four-foot red banner bearing a black swastika symbol of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich—Koehl rules a tiny band of armed racists and anti-Semites.

"I was born a racist," Koehl told an interviewer. "I never could see the sense of mixing of blacks and whites. It's highly indecent. I've always believed in the establishment of an all-white America."

Koehl was second in command last Aug. 25 when Rockwell was shot by a sniper in an Arlington shopping center. The sniper, former Nazi party member John Patler, has since been convicted and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Koehl, a native of Milwaukee, speaks glibly and without hesitation as he talks of the aims of the Nazis—and of his own predictions for the future of the United States.

"What we know is coming is race war. Race war is just around the corner in historical terms. We expect there will be a serious American defeat in Vietnam because of the administration's no-win policy."

He sees also hard economic times coming "because of dwindling reserves of gold and silver. There's going to be chaos in America—we will have lost at that time the only alternative."

But Koehl, respected by his pistol-toting comrades in the Arlington establishment, apparently doesn't understand the respect of all Nazis. He lacks something of Rockwell, the former Navy commander and World War II fighter pilot who affected a folksy style as he smoked his corncob pipe and talked hate.

"I'm going to completely separate the black and white races and preserve white Christian domination in this country, and I'm going to have the Jew Communists and any other traitors gassed for treason," Rockwell once said.

But while the basic aims of the Nazis haven't changed, their activities have. They've largely stopped their publicity seeking antics such as the demonstration in 1965 when a Rockwell trooper put on black-face minstrel garb, slipped past guards and made a dramatic entrance in the well of the House of Representatives to protest civil rights legislation.

And they've turned to use of the telephone for what Koehl calls the "white power message." One such message, opposing the elevation of Associate Justice Abe Fortas to chief justice called him "a Red Jew—an utterly despicable one."

And more recent? Koehl's recorded voice urged District of Columbia residents to disobey the new district gun registration law, and instead obtain a minimum of 100 rounds of ammunition for each weapon they own. It urged they find secure hiding places for their weapons.

"Everyone who registers his gun with the black government on the district will sooner or later be ordered to give up that gun," Koehl's recorded voice said.

And if the party doesn't seem as prominent it's because it has entered Phase II of its development, as Koehl explains it. Koehl said Rockwell's plan called for three phases in development of the party.

The first, begun with the 1956 founding, was "to make the party known at all costs—to project an image of the party as an all-deep red, Matthias Koehl Jr., 33, presides as national leader. Seated beneath a four-foot red banner bearing a black swastika symbol of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich—Koehl rules a tiny band of armed racists and anti-Semites."

The second phase—which Koehl estimates will take two to five years—calls for building the party into a formidable force, forming the mechanism of what Koehl calls the "revolutionary change."

The final phase, he said, will be to "build a grass roots movement in American politics."

Computer Helps Nab Criminals

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Baton Rouge, La. policeman halted a car for running a stop sign last month.

Before the officer finished making out the ticket, a routine check by a new computer hundreds of miles away in Washington, D.C., reported that the driver was wanted in a half-million-dollar New York bank robbery.

Unusual? Not any longer, said the FBI Monday in reporting on the first 18 months operation of the National Crime Information Center.

The FBI called the center, located near its headquarters in the capital, "the greatest advance in law enforcement in 25 years" and said it is responsible for 500,000 arrests or recoveries of stolen property each month.

The big computer is the guts of the center, which serves as a warehouse of facts on 386,000 wanted men, stolen cars, missing guns, and hundreds of other items bearing serial numbers.

The center provides almost instantaneous information to more than 700 police departments in 43 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

Hawaii will be hooked up to the system Aug. 9 and by the end of the year all 50 states will "subscribe."

The FBI said notices of stolen cars or descriptions of fugitives and missing property are fed electronically by police agencies into one of 62 terminals. These terminals process the information to the $1-million center in Washington.

California alone has 300 police departments which feed information into one terminal. New York state has about 140 agencies which run their data through two relay points.

The FBI said police in the smallest communities may benefit from the computer. All they need is a teletype unit and somebody who can type. What-ever information they have, or require, is sent by teletype message to the nearest terminal, and an answer from the bank can be flashed back in seconds.

The FBI envisions more uses for the computer.

Already being researched is a system whereby fingerprints could be identified at the push of a button.

A boon to banks and those companies dealing with stocks and bonds would be an instant identification process of such serialized paper assets.

Could be a Circus

Celebrities Aiding Candidate Promotion

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The candidates have enlisted an array of celebrities to promote their cause. Appearing at Nelson Rockefeller gatherings are such stars as Helen Hayes, Kitty Carlisle, Teresa Wright, Nancy Ames and Hildegard.

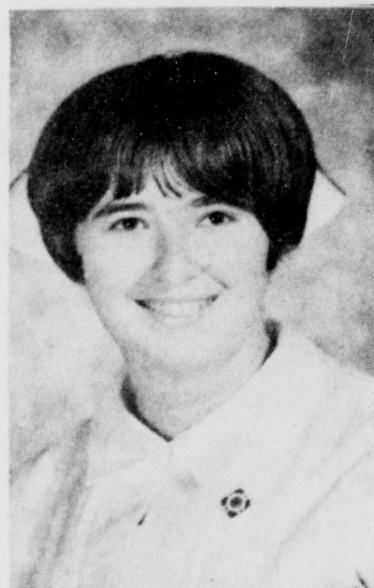

Among Richard Nixon's promoters, basketball star Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers, stands out in the party crowd. He should. He's 7 feet 2 inches tall.

Delegates Angered Over 'Poor' Tickets

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Convention delegates, previously irked because they were turned down for extra convention tickets, were visibly irritated and privately angered at New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller over the admission of 52 members of the Poor People's campaign—all with bona fide tickets.

The marchers reportedly received tickets from National GOP Chairman Ray Bliss, Illinois Sen. Charles Percy, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, Rep. Ogden Reid of New York and Clarence Townes, director of the Republican Minorities Division, among others.

Many of the delegates, primarily of the Reagan camp, felt

MISS KAY SPRINKLES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sprinkles, Route 4, Sedalia, will graduate from the Burge Protestant Hospital School of Nursing in Springfield during commencement exercises to be held in the field house at Drury College on Aug. 10. the tickets were given to the group under pressure by Rockefeller.

First Negro Congressman From Missouri

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri will send its first Negro to Congress in January.

Both the Democrats and Republicans nominated a Negro in the 1st Congressional District in Tuesday's primary. The predominantly Negro district is in metropolitan St. Louis. It was set up in last year's reapportionment as a district in which Negroes could elect their first congressmen.

William L. Clay, 36, defeated five democratic opponents. Clay is an official of Steamfitters Local 562 and business representative of the City Employees Union. He is a former board member of the St. Louis chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Republican Curtis C. Crawford won a five-way contest among Republicans. Once a Democrat, Crawford is a former assistant circuit attorney in St. Louis.

Conflicting Claims

Honduras says its claim to the Swan Islands dates from the Spanish conquest of the New World. The United States has never recognized the Honduras claim and has claimed the islands as American since 1893.

Would Retain GOP National Chairman

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says if he receives the Republican presidential nomination he will keep Ray

C. Bliss as GOP national chairman. Bliss, the Ohio Republican leader, has been chairman of the national party organization since shortly after Barry Goldwater's overwhelming defeat four years ago.

Dagwood Has 'Studied'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When the producers of CBS' new comedy series "Blondie," tapped actor Will Hutchins to play Dagwood Bumstead, they did not know they had acquired a long-time student of the venerable comic strip.

"Very few people remember why Dagwood is such a bumbler," said Will authoritatively over a noon repast that, minus bread, looked amazingly like a Dagwood sandwich surmounted by melted mozzarella cheese.

"Chic Young's comic strip was started in the late 1920s and one of the depression themes was that he was the son of a very rich man who, until he lost his money, had never done anything practical."

Will, whose specialty as a performer is projecting a gentle, naive quality, is a lanky six-footer who resembles not at all the cartoon character nor even Arthur Laken the actor who with Penny Singleton made careers out of playing Dagwood and Blondie in a series of almost 30 motion pictures. But Hutchins, still remembered for his four years in television's early "Sugarfoot" series, seems to be right for the role. Patricia Harty plays the title role.

Hutchins, who can kick dust and say "Ah, shucks" very convincingly, actually isn't all that unsophisticated and has a nice easy way with a comedy line. After "Sugarfoot," there was "Hey, Landlord," which barely staggered through the 1966-67 season. His TV wife, "Miss Harty," had a similar experience that year with "Occasional Wife," and both series were better than their ratings indicated.

The actor, who looks much younger than he is—early thirties—recently went through one of those civilized, amicable divorces from Christine Burnett, Carol's real-life younger sister. "What I'd love," said Will, "is to bring back Arthur Lake and Penny Singleton to play our children's grandparents. But I doubt if anyone would go along with that idea."

ABC executives are pleased with overnight ratings of the network's 90-minute nightly convention wrapup. A national survey for the 9:30-11 p.m. time period on the first night showed that, in terms of audience size, it trailed NBC by just less than a point and CBS by two points—low network on the convention-coverage pool but still twice as strong as its showing four years ago.

The first of the nightly summaries suffered from the same problems that bugged the continuing live coverage of CBS and NBC—lack of stimulating raw material with which to work.

Says Car Has Been 'Down the Road'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Riding along Collins Avenue amid the Republican convention traffic Tuesday was a black car with this message painted on both sides: "I've been down the road with Lyndon."

Policemen Wounded In New Disturbance

By JOSEPH R. TYBOR
Associated Press Writer
HARVEY, Ill. (AP) — Sporadic gunfire wounded seven policemen and a woman during a disturbance caused by Negro youths, and scores of law enforcement officers moved in early today to secure the troubled area.

State, county and local police officers, helmeted and heavily armed, massed at a food store parking lot waiting for action, but the area was calm hours after the initial outburst late Tuesday night.

Mayor James Haines of Harvey imposed a curfew until dawn in the south suburban Chicago community which has grown increasingly tense since a police officer shot a fleeing Negro youth June 30.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict Tuesday of justifiable homicide in the fatal shooting of the Chicago youth.

Haines, who is white, said five police officers were wounded from a single shotgun blast as they dispersed a crowd of 75 to 100 Negro youths who were throwing rocks at passing cars and shouting expletives.

He blamed the disorder, which started late Tuesday night, on the oppressive heat.

"On evenings like this it's more comfortable to stand on a street corner," he said.

The disturbance centered in a four-block-square area near the borderline of Harvey and Dixmoor, suburbs 17 miles south of downtown Chicago with a population of 35,000.

The mayor said the Negro youths massed at a car wash and became abusive. Police moved in and ordered the youths to scatter. They remained in the general area for a time and several shots were fired.

Eight arrests were reported, mostly for disorderly conduct.

A spokesman for Ingalls Hospital said none of the seven policemen—three from Harvey and four from neighboring Dolton—was critically injured. Three officers were admitted for treatment. One officer was shot in the face as he patrolled the area in a squad car.

Three other persons were treated for minor injuries and released, including a Negro woman, who said she was struck by two police bullets while officers were "chasing the rioters and shooting at them."

She said the bullets penetrated a wall of her home, striking her in the left arm near the elbow

Judge Is Barred

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma's new Court On The Judiciary Tuesday found Bryan County Judge Glenn Sharpe guilty of corruption, ordered him removed from the bench immediately and barred him from public office for three years.

The unanimous decision by the eight-member court found and in the right wrist. She received first aid at Ingalls Hospital.

Tuesday's disorders marked the second straight night of trouble in Harvey. Several hundred Negroes lit a bonfire Monday night and danced around it playing drums and throwing rocks. Police action was limited to cordoning off traffic from the area.

Harvey and Dixmoor were the scene of racial violence four years ago.

Rioting erupted the night of Aug. 16, 1964, after a white liquor store owner in a predominantly Negro Dixmoor neighborhood accused a Negro woman of stealing a bottle of gin.

Eighty persons—43 Negroes and 37 whites—were arrested before peace was restored two days later. More than 50 white persons were injured during the rioting, most of them stoned by Negroes as they drove through the area.

Sharpe had, in 1965, 1966 and the first half of 1967, collected and kept money from applicants for waivers to state marriage requirements.

The decision made no mention of the several other charges leveled against the 32-year-old Sharpe.

The Oklahoma Bar Association, in asking for Sharpe's ouster, alleged he had jailed a 10-year-old boy to make him confess to stealing a piggy bank, had jailed a man for no cause, had falsified his state and federal income tax returns and had kept certain fees that should have been turned over to the county treasurer.

Sharpe's lawyer, Charles Hill Johns, filed notice of appeal, and Sharpe said he will appeal "all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary."

The trial prosecutor, Howard K. Berry of Oklahoma City, accused Sharpe of being a major cog in a "quickie marriage mill" in Durant, and was highly critical of Sharpe's handling of the cases involving the 10-year-old boy and the man.

The Court On The Judiciary was created two years ago in the court reform drive that followed the State Supreme Court scandals.

The constitutional amendment establishing the court provides for appeals to a nine member appellate division which may affirm, reverse or modify the trial division's decisions.

Big Win For CCP In County

KANSAS CITY (AP) — All nine candidates on the Committee for County Progress ticket swept to victory in the Jackson County Democratic primary election Tuesday.

The CCP look control of most county offices two years ago and withstood a strong challenge from a coalition of their Democratic factions who labeled themselves Regular Democrats in this election.

"The CCP has definitely established itself," said Charles E. Curry, presiding judge of the county court and founder of the CCP, "and this has to be a turning point for the factions... We swept in two years ago with a reform group and now the voters have affirmed their support for us."

George W. Lehr, county collector and CCP campaign manager, said the primary established the CCP as leader of the Democratic party in Jackson County.

"I hope leaders across the state recognize this," Lehr said. "People have rightly turned their backs on the factions. The factions have no future."

Len W. Harrington, chairman of the Regular Democrats, took a different view.

"We've won some, we've lost some," Harrington said. "The opposition knows now we're here. Come two years from now we'll be in there fighting. In two years we'll clean the platter if we don't win this one, and I'm not giving up yet."

Activist Wins Nomination In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — State Rep. Raymond Howard, a civil rights activist and a Negro, beat veteran Sen. Michael Kinney, 94, Tuesday in Kinney's bid for Democratic renomination in the predominantly Negro Fifth Senatorial District here.

Kinney had been a member of the Missouri Senate since 1913. He had admitted that he had lived outside his Senate district for several years.

Howard won 3,611 to 2,974. A third entry, Owen G. Eaton received no votes.

Kinney was believed to have served in the Missouri Senate longer than any other legislator had in any governing body in the United States.

He once was arrested in connection with demonstrations at a St. Louis bank. The demonstrators charged the bank discriminated against blacks when hiring employees.

Maloney Stops Cardinals; Cubs' Position Undisputed

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Atlanta Braves fumbled the ball and Don Drysdale couldn't pick it up.
The Braves committed four errors in the first inning Tuesday night on the way to a 4-3 loss to Chicago that gave the Cubs undisputed possession of second place in the National League.
Drysdale bobbled Maury Wills' bases-loaded roller in the ninth inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates added two more runs for a 4-1 victory over the skidding Los Angeles Dodgers' ace.
Cincinnati's Jim Maloney stopped the first-place St. Louis Cardinals 5-0 with a five-hitter; San Francisco trimmed Philadelphia 4-1 behind the hitting of rookie Bobby Bonds and the New York Mets topped Houston 4-1 on rookie Kevin Collins' three-run ninth-inning homer.

In the American League, Detroit beat Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings and led the Indians 5-2 after eight innings of their double-header nightcap when play was suspended because of a curfew; California trounced Washington 10-3 before bowing to the Senators 1-0; Boston drubbed the Chicago White Sox 8-2 and Minnesota nipped Baltimore 5-4.
The Cubs capitalized on two errors by Felipe Alou—on the same play—and one each by Marty Martinez and Felix Millan for a 3-0 first-inning lead at Atlanta.

Fifth-inning doubles by Al Spangler and Randy Hundley sent another Chicago run home and the Cubs weathered a late comeback by the Braves for the seventh victory in eight games.
Hank Aaron and Alou hit bases-empty homers for Atlanta before Phil Regan, the Cubs' relief ace, nailed the victory for starter Joe Niekro.
The Pirates broke a 1-1 tie at Los Angeles on Drysdale's second error in the ninth and Willie Stargell provided insurance with a two-run single.
Bill Mazeroski and Jerry May singled with one out and moved up one base apiece on Drysdale's wild pickoff attempt. First baseman Ron Fairly then fielded pinch hitter Manny Jimenez' grounder but failed to make a play after bluffing a throw home.
That filled the bases and set the stage for the decisive misplay by Drysdale, who has lost his last four decisions for a 12-10 season mark.
The Reds nursed a 1-0 lead until the eighth inning at St. Louis, when Leo Cardenas homered and an error by Julian Javier opened the gates for three more runs.

Maloney, 10-7, allowed five singles—three by Dal Maxvill—in boosting his career advantage over the Cardinals to 11-5.
Bonds tripled in the first inning and scored on a passed ball, then cracked a tie-breaking single in the eighth as the Giants struck for three runs.
Gaylord Perry stopped the Phillies on three hits and leveled his record at 10-10. Loser Larry Jackson yielded just one hit—Bonds' triple—until the eighth, when Jim Davenport, Bonds, Dave Marshall and Willie McCovey reached him for singles.
Collins grounded into a force play with the bases loaded in the seventh, driving in New York's first run, and drilled his first major league homer following singles by Cleon Jones and Ed Kranepool in the ninth.

Newcomer Proves Power Against Nature Boy Kirby

Gil Hayes, newcomer to the Sedalia wrestling ring, proved his powers, Tuesday night, when he put aside the rough or the roughest wrestlers to appear in the local ring, in Nature Boy Kirby. It took three falls, but Hayes displayed his experience in the first and third fall period.
It was two minutes and 30 seconds that Hayes succeeded in outsmarting Kirby and pinned him after a series of body slams. The 13 minutes and 30 seconds passed before Kirby succeeded in providing a series of knee drops and press to win. Hayes watching his chances moved swiftly to attack Kirby, get a shoulder press to win in three minutes and 15 seconds.
The team tag event went to the combination of Bob Brown and Bob Giegel defeated Ronnie Etchison and The Spoiler. Etchison suffered a possible broken hand in the final fall when Brown and Giegel both worked on Etchison's hand, twisting and pulling it.

The first fall ended in 11 minutes and 10 seconds when Giegel got a body press on The Spoiler. The second fall went to Etchison who pinned Brown in seven minutes and 30 seconds with a leg and arm bar. Giegel put a strong twist on Etchison for the final fall in eight minutes and 40 seconds.
After the match Etchison's hand began to swell, but he refused to be taken to the hospital and explained he would go to his doctor in St. Joseph as soon as he returned home. The hand appeared to have had a fractured bone in it.
The Viking in a special event beat the former heavyweight champion Pat O'Connor in 19 minutes and 35 seconds in their one-fall 20-minute time limit match.
In the opening event Bob Brown refused to obey the referee's orders and warnings and was disqualified after 13 minutes and 55 seconds in the ring with The Spoiler. The referee awarded the match to The Spoiler.

Tigers Edge Cleveland

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was out and you're on and on and you're out.
Any fan knows that's no way to play baseball. The Baltimore Orioles know it, too.
Tony Oliva led off the sixth inning for Minnesota Tuesday night and struck out. But Oriole catcher Andy Etchebarren failed to handle the third strike and Oliva reached first. One out later, Bob Allison homered and Minnesota had a 5-0 lead.
The Orioles then fought back to trail by only 5-4 with one out in the ninth. U stepped pinch-hitter Larry Haney, who lashed the ball to right field and ended up on second base. But he failed to touch first and was out.
Ron Perranoski retired the next hitter and the second-place Orioles were beaten 5-4 to fall 6½ games behind the American League-leading Detroit Tigers.
The Tigers edged Cleveland 2-1 in 17 innings on Dick Tracewski's run-scoring single and led 5-2 after eight innings of the nightcap of the two-night double-header when it was suspended by a 1 a.m. EDT, curfew. It will be completed tonight.
In other American League action, Boston trounced the Chicago White Sox 8-2 and California beat Washington 10-3 before losing to the Senators 1-0. The New York Yankees and Oakland were not scheduled.
Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 5-0, the Chicago Cubs nipped Atlanta 4-3, the New York Mets topped Houston 4-1, San Francisco took Philadelphia 4-1 and Pittsburgh defeated Los Angeles 4-1 in the National League.
Cesar Tovar scored the first two Minnesota runs and drove in the third. Frank Robinson and Bob Johnson drove in Baltimore runs in the sixth. The Orioles got another pair in the eighth on Boog Powell's RBI double and an error.
Tracewski's game-winning single was only his second hit in 33 at bats. It scored Willie Horton, who singled and moved to second when Bill Freehan was hit by a pitch.

Cleveland scored in the third inning on Tommy Harper's single, a sacrifice and Jose Cardenal's single. Detroit tied it in the eighth when Don Wert homered off starter Luis Tiant.
The Tigers took a 5-2 lead in the suspended game by scoring four runs in the sixth, two of them coming on Al Kaline's pinch double with the bases loaded.
Lou Klimchok's bases-loaded single brought in Cleveland's two runs. Detroit's other tally came on Norm Cash's 16th homer.
Boston wrapped up its victory over the White Sox with five runs in the fourth. Carl Yastrzemski hit his 14th homer leading off the fourth, then drove in another run in the inning when he walked with the bases loaded. He also batted in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first.
Jim Lonborg, the Red Sox ace who was injured in an off-season skiing accident, boosted his record to 3-3 as the Red Sox won for the sixth time in the last seven games. Lonborg was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth, with Boston leading by five runs.
Joe Coleman scattered four singles, struck out eight and got the only run he needed when Cap Peterson scored on a wild pitch in the fourth inning in Washington's first game victory.
Peterson singled, stole second, moved to third on Hank Allen's single and came in on Jim McGlothlin's wild pitch.
California took advantage of six Washington errors to score six unearned runs in the opening game. Chuck Hinton homered for the winning Angels and he, Don Mincher and Bobby Knoop each collected three hits.

Griffith Wins Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "They wrote that all Gypsy had to do was show up and bugaloo and he's won. I guess the Old Man showed 'em something."
Emile Griffith was chortling in his dressing room at the Spectrum after winning a lopsided decision over previously unbeaten Gypsy Joe Harris. He referred to prefight stores he had read which wrote him off as an old man about to be devoured by the 22-year-old unorthodox Harris of Philadelphia.
When it was over, however, Griffith, twice the middleweight champion, had ended the younger man's 24-fight winning streak. He did it with the authority of an experienced fighter giving a pupil a boxing lesson.
The decision was unanimous. Judges Nat Lopinson and Dave Beloff scored it 56-53 and 58-51, respectively, while referee Pete Tomasco had it 58-53 for the 29-year-old New Yorker from the Virgin Islands. The Associated Press gave Griffith all 12 rounds and a 60-48 triumph.
Griffith, who lost his middleweight title last March to Nino Benvenuti of Italy, may have set himself up for a return bout with the Italian.
Griffith's co-manager, Gil Clancy said, "Benvenuti must fight Emile if he wants to fight for money, or else he'll fight for peanuts."
Clancy said Griffith has an offer to fight Jimmy Lester in San Francisco.

There was no doubt from the start as to the winner. Griffith reached the 22-year-old Harris early with short left jabs and left-right combinations which enabled him to build up a comfortable margin through the first six rounds.
Claims Montreal Losing Franchise Due To Finances
CHICAGO (AP) — WGN broadcasting, which carries Chicago Cub baseball games on radio and television, said Tuesday night it had learned Montreal will lose its National League baseball franchise because of financial difficulties.
WGN, broadcasting over its radio and television outlets, said "a high baseball official" reported the franchise would be shifted to either Milwaukee or Buffalo.
In Montreal, John Newman, one of the Canadian City's financial backers, said the report is "a lot of garbage."
Newman said both Montreal and San Diego—the league's other expansion city—received an extension from Aug. 1 to Aug. 15 to make the first payment to the league.

Seals In Trouble

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals of the National Hockey League, in trouble on the ice and at the gate last season, have undergone changes of ownership and players that they hope will improve their performance in both areas.
Previously the Seals had nearly 50 stockholders from various cities and this led to management problems so great that the club nearly moved to Vancouver, Canada.
Only the opposition of NHL owners prevented this.
Palmer, O'Neil and Gillett say they are committed to staying in Oakland.

Potter Palmer of Chicago and John O'Neil Jr. of Miami, Fla., two of the team's owners, have joined with George Gillett of Chicago to buy control, they announced Tuesday.
The three partners are already sole owners of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team and also have an interest in the Atlanta Braves in baseball, the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League and the Atlanta Chiefs of the North American Soccer League.

Previously the Seals had nearly 50 stockholders from various cities and this led to management problems so great that the club nearly moved to Vancouver, Canada.
Only the opposition of NHL owners prevented this.

May Restore Health To Flag Race

ST. LOUIS (AP) — If Cincinnati can find a way of pitching Jim Maloney every time they face the St. Louis Cardinals, they might restore some health to the National League pennant race.
The Reds' hard-throwing righthander shackled the Cardinals on five hits and led the Reds run to a 5-0 victory Tuesday night.
That cut the Cards' lead over the third place Reds to 13½ games. But more importantly the Reds are back within 11 games of the Cardinals on the loss side.
Maloney's performance might have been even more impressive if he could have found some way of avoiding pitching to Dal Maxvill.
The Cardinals slender shortstop slapped three hits off Maloney in three at-bats.
Curt Flood and Orlando Cepeda got the other hits.
Maloney's record is only 10-7 on the season, but his lifetime record against the Redbirds now is 11-5.
Lee May scored the only run Maloney needed in the second inning. He extended his hitting streak to 19 games with a single off loser Steve Carlton (11-6). Two outs later he was home on Tommie Helms' single.
Then the Reds blew Carlton out of the game with four runs in the eighth inning. Leo Cardenas started the five-hit outburst with a lead-off home run. Carlton got the next two men, but Vada Pinson kept the inning going with a single and Alex Johnson followed with a single.
The Cardinals might have gotten out of the inning with no more trouble but for a costly error by Julian Javier. Instead Johnny Bench and Tony Perez each singled to drive in the unearned runs of the inning.
Meanwhile Maloney kept hacking away at the Cardinals. Nobody ever got past second base.
The Reds sent no-hit pitcher George Culver (9-10) to the mound tonight against Mel Nelson (1-1).

Shuts Out Cards

Cincinnati Reds' pitcher Jim Maloney lets the ball fly as he turned back the Cards on five hits Tuesday. He shutout the league leaders 5-0 as he raised his record to 10-7. (UPI).

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn. (AP) — Coach Norb Hecker is convinced he finally has the Atlanta Falcons on the right track, although a lack of offensive punch is still apparent.
"I think we're finally jelling as a team, particularly on defense," said Hecker, hoping to rebound from a disappointing season in 1967 when the Falcons managed only a single victory.
"The team attitude is the best we've had," Hecker said. "Our defense is really working as a unit, and our passing should be better because our receivers have made a lot of improvement."
A pair of big rookies, 250-pound Carlton Dabney of Morgan State and 255-pound Claude Humphrey of Tennessee State, are ticketed for starting jobs in the defensive line, a trouble spot for the Falcons since they made their National Football League debut in 1966.
"The line is the key to our improvement on defense, and it should be a lot stronger this year with Dabney and Humphrey in there," Hecker said.
The Falcons have a proven corps of linebackers headed by big Tommy Nobis, and a tested defensive secondary in Ken Reeves, Nick Rassas, Bob Riggle and Lee Calland.
Offensively, however, the Falcons may have trouble because of a lack of running backs.
Junior Coffey, who gained more than 700 yards each of the past two seasons, was the only running standout and he has been sidelined for a couple of months with a knee injury.
Perry Lee Dunn, Jim Mankins and Rookies Harmon Wages of Florida and Bill Harris of Colorado have not been overly impressive in practice, but the Falcons plan to go with them unless they can work out a trade for a veteran runner.
"We're not going to panic over it," Hecker said. "But we may have to do a lot of passing."

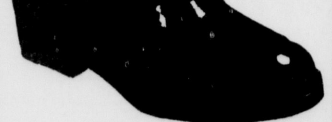

sharing the quarterback duties.
"We've got a lot of good receivers this year, and our passing game should be much better," Hecker said.
Tight end Ray Ogden, split end Jerry Simmons and flanker Gene Snipes have been standouts in summer drills, and rookies John Wright of Illinois, Rick Eber of Tulsa, Ray Jeffords of Georgia and Ed Larios of San Francisco State have drawn praise from Hecker.
The offensive line should be stronger, with Dan Grimm back at guard after missing the 1967 season with a leg injury.
"And if we can get the ball to the 50 we should be able to get a field goal," Hecker said, pointing out that rookie Bob Etter of Georgia has been deadly in practice.
Etter, who weighs only 152 pounds, has come up with a special kicking shoe and has been booting field goals in practice almost without a miss.
Etter hit on kicks of 50, 39 and 38 in the Falcons' final intrasquad scrimmage.
"We may have the best kicking game in the league," Hecker said, noting that Bill Lothridge won the NFL punting title last year with an average of 43.7 yards on 87 kicks.
Hecker appears more confident this summer than he did in previous training camps, when the Falcons are trying to build a team.
"We've gotten a good organization set up now, and a good coaching staff," Hecker said.
"Everybody knows what he's doing and I'm able to look at the overall picture better."
But Hecker can't carry the ball, and the lack of dependable runners probably means the Falcons will be scrambling to improve on their 1967 record.

Favor Nicklaus To Win Second Golf Triumph

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Strong-boy Jack Nicklaus looms as a solid favorite to snare his second straight tournament triumph when action starts Thursday in the $125,000 American Golf Classic.
The Columbus belter ended a long drought last Sunday with an easy victory in the Western Open. It was his first tour success since last October.
Big Jack, who always appears at his best when the challenge is great, will be testing the rugged, 7,180-yard par-70 Firestone Country Club layout, one of the finest courses in the country.
He'll also have to whip a strong field that includes slump-ridden but dangerous Arnold Palmer, the defending champion and the only two-time winner of the American Golf Classic.

British Olympic Aid

British Olympic hopefuls Colin Campbell and Lillian Board are all smiles as they hold a check for 3,258 pounds, about $7,800, and a number of 23-peso silver coins in London Tuesday. The check was presented to the British Olympic Appeal Fund by the London Branch of the First National Bank of Chicago. The money is the profit made so far from the sale of the 23-peso coins specially minted by the Mexican government to commemorate the upcoming Summer Olympics in Mexico City. (UPI).

Birds Build Nests
With Lint From Dryer

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—The following Pointer has brought much pleasure to our entire family. For the past five or six years we have been saving the lint we take out of the dryer during the winter and keep it in a small basket. In the spring, when the little birds start to build their nests, we put a large hand-ful on the cyclone fence next to our bird feeder. You should see the birds gather the lint up in their mouths and fly away with it.—HERBERT

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I recently came into possession of some heavy black frying pans like our grandmothers used. I remember how good eggs used to taste when cooked in them, so I would like to use mine but they are rusted and the bottoms are covered with baked-on grease. Can anyone tell me what I can use to clean them? Scrubbing does not do the job.—BEV

DEAR POLLY—A discarded rubber-lined cosmetic bag makes a great ice bag. It is just large enough to be comfortable.—MRS. I. W.

DEAR POLLY—My Pointer concerns lining your cosmetic bag when traveling. All the different sizes of plastic sandwich bags make it easy and they keep the inside of the bag clean. Find the proper-sized bag to fit in your cosmetic bag and insert one in the bag before putting in your toilet articles. When items are in the bag, fold over at the top. I find this most satisfactory. In case of an accident, like spilled loose powder, the mess stays in the plastic bag, which can be thrown away and a new bag put in.—MRS. G. L.

DEAR GIRLS—Mrs. G. L.'s Pointer could be combined with the one from Mrs. I. W. so the bag inside the cosmetic case could hold the water when the ice starts to melt.—POLLY

The Baseball Mood in Harlem

JOE PEPITONE autographs and soul slaps in Harlem street. Photo by New York Times

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The street in the heart of Harlem was blocked off by squad cars. In the middle of the block, in front of Public School 154, a crowd of several hundred youngsters and adults swarmed and sweated under the sun of the long, hot summer's day. (A block away, blasts from a fire hydrant attacked passing cars and squealing tots.)

The scene had all the trimmings of a minor riot. But not this time. It was only a welcome for visitors, the New York Yankees, who lined up in civilian clothes on the steps of the school.

"Hey, there's Mickey Mantle," said a shirtless teen-ager.

"Which one?" asked his friend, wearing love beads over a T-shirt.

"The blond dude with the blond eye lashes."

"Who cares? I don't play baseball. Now if one of them killer linebackers was here, like Dick Butkus or somebody . . ."

All summer, an edgy city administration and various local private groups have sought to divert the attention of New York's downtown. Plays have been shown on makeshift stages. Network television programs have emanated from Harlem. Assorted other forms of entertainment have used platforms here, too. Now the Yankees.

Shouts and cheers, some Bronx cheers, too, greeted the players as they came through the school doors onto the steps. Some autograph signing. Some banter. Then general manager Lee McPhail introduced each player with a short introduction. ("One of baseball's most improved players, Roy White." Enthusiastic applause for the black player. "No question that Joe Pepitone is the noisiest player." Screams and jibes for the long-haired, mod-dressed outfielder. "The best player of our era, Mickey Mantle." Greatest ovation.)

After about 25 minutes, the Yankee thing was over. The team departed through the school to the bus waiting at the back entrance. Only Joe Pepitone—razor cut, sideburns, blue pin-striped white sport jacket with white handkerchief, blue shirt, tie and pants, and black buckle shoes—came into the crowd. His cream-colored hard-top convertible was parked nearby. His wife waited inside.

He was besieged. Hands shot out at him and he responded with "soul slaps." Then autographs. ("Hey, Pepi. Hey, Pepi.") One kid in a baseball cap, turned catcher-style, cried, "Cool it." He was pushed.

He got Pepitone's signature, squinted and said, "What is this, Japanese?"

A middle-aged man had Pepitone sign a dollar bill. "So I'll be sure to keep it," he said.

The most disappointed kid was the one in a baseball uniform who nearly sobbed when forced to return Pepitone's breast-pocket handkerchief.

Then Pepitone was gone. The Yankees were gone. On the platform now, a small girl and boy bumped "The Horse" to a cordon of rhythmic handclaps.

A kid strolled toward the crowd. "Where them Yanks?"

He was told they had departed. "Gone? They was hardly here. I wanted to see the Mick. That's my boy, man."

"Why don't someone get the Jets?" another said. "They might stay 45 minutes."

An older man said, "I deserve better, after 30 years of being a fan."

"I thought they were going to give out equipment," said a kid.

A woman who helped co-ordinate the program said, "It would have been a big thing if the Yanks had gone into the crowd, talking to the kids and giving balls and signing them. No need to be scared. They aren't Martin Luther King or Bobby Kennedy. Now the kids'll say, 'Yeah, the Yanks were here.' That's all."

"It should've been, 'Oooohh, baby. Dig this ball. Mantle signed it right here.'"

"At least, the Yanks have come down from their Messianic heights. For so long they thought they were supergods riding through the Bronx. Now they're just another team playing under .500 ball. I'll put it this way: It wasn't a peachy keen-swingin'-cool Jim Dandy gig."

A young man in beret, beard and shades shrugged. "Tokenism," he said.

Sports Unions:

Industrial Revolution Revisited

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Everyone appears happy that the National Football League dispute between owners and the Players Association is over. The owners are delighted that the season will be business as usual. The players are excited about a boost in pension plans and other concessions.

And the people at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, where the meetings were held, are ecstatic that the players are gone, their cleats were ruining the carpets.

Now that the blue shoulder-padded workers have returned to their sweatshops and to blocking assembly-line dummies, it seems appropriate to view this labor phenomenon in perspective.

Details of the agreement are of little interest, really, to the average sports fan—whomever he may be. What is pertinent, however, is that the players, like so many other workers, professional and nonprofessional, have found it necessary to band together for expression, for protection and for greater opportunity to advance themselves.

Theodore Wheel

known labor lawyer, has recently been involved in sports arbitration. He was a mediator in the NCAA-AAU dispute, and has been retained by the NFL owners over several years as an adviser and labor expert. In this summer's player entanglement, he aided NFL owners in their negotiations. As he sees it, the football players' "groupification" is not an isolated development but part of a long national and international trend.

"In this country," said Wheel, "the idea that a group similarly situated could be most effective when working together began in 1776. Thirteen states attempted to form a more perfect union."

"There has been a long and, I think, successful history of group strength. The roots were in the beginning of the industrial revolution. The working man was being taken advantage of. There evolved a determined effort toward groupification to enhance strength at the bargaining table.

"At that time, the so-called blue-collar worker was a kind of interchangeable part. The bargaining power of an individual worker had diminished. One man on a machine didn't have much effectiveness when seeking higher wages and better conditions. He could be fired and there were many who could do his job. But if 30,000 struck—the way the New York transit authority employees recently did—they had group power."

"Now, in the last 10 or 15 years there has been an extension of this simple concept. There is unionization of teachers, engineers, doctors, lawyers, musicians, pilots, garbage collectors, farmers. All are seeking mutual protection. You even see students—and parents—coming together in individual groups."

"So sports unions are an outgrowth of these international trends. But every labor situation is different from any other, though surface similarities are there."

"The differences in sports are interesting. Most important, unions have no power to bargain for individual salaries. Certain individuals, of course, have bargaining strength superior to that of the group. This is the basic conflict in sports unions, since the unions were created from the athletes' desire to improve their over-all situation."

"And when a star—like a Fran Tarkenton or Bart Starr, say—holds out for more money, this is actually a strike. An effective one, too, because a star is not an interchangeable part."

"Another difference is the rapid turnover in personnel. There is an almost completely new work force every five or six years. Some players last 10 or 15 years, but that is exceptional."

"Third, in most unions the leadership comes from the rank and file. In sports, as in actors' and musicians' unions, professional leadership is brought in on a full-time basis. Baseball players, for example, have Marvin Miller. Football players have Daniel Schulman."

"The close personal relationship between players and owners is another rather unique aspect. Players are often house guests of owners. You don't see that with, say, garbage collectors and their executives."

"That's why any animosities that might have developed in the heated negotiations will soon be forgotten. After all, how many business magnates can tell friends, 'Oh, yes, Johnny Unitas works for me. What a great guy.'"

Happy In Shadows

By FRANK MURRAY
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Happiness for Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, the campaigner, is staying in the shadow of her famous husband.

Happiness for Happy Rockefeller, the wife, is staying home with the Rockefeller children.

During the hectic days of the Republican National Convention, Mrs. Rockefeller stands by her husband's side at receptions and public appearances. She smiles, shakes hands and greets most comers: "Nice to see you. How nice of you to come."

But there are no speeches, no planned interviews. Mrs. Rockefeller is the only wife of a candidate who has not attended convention sessions.

"She's a shy woman," said a member of Mrs. Rockefeller's staff. "She's led a sheltered life. She isn't a solo campaigner. But she plays an effective role, an enormous role."

Mrs. Rockefeller has told friends that campaigning for office is her husband's job, just as other husbands go daily to the office or factory. She said her role as a wife is to stay in the background, tend the children and keep a pleasant home for the New York governor.

The elegant young daughter of a Philadelphia Main Line family, constantly wearing pastel linen dresses, has been nearly trampled by newsmen and crowds while following her husband on many of his appearances.

The smile is Happy's secret weapon, both on offense and defense.

When a newsman asks a question, she may nod, smile and walk away as if she did not hear. Even when cornered, Mrs. Rockefeller says little but is never rude.

"I find newspaper people bright and fascinating company," Mrs. Rockefeller said in a prepared release, "but I just do not consider myself an authority on large issues and therefore can't make formal statements on them."

Now is the ideal time to blast crabgrass!

This time of year crabgrass seeds are ripening by the millions. In a few weeks they'll be dropping to lay the foundation for an even bigger crop next year.

That's why it's wise to hit crabgrass right now with Scott's famous CLOUT. One application makes it curl and wither without damaging good grass. A second application one week later polishes crabgrass off completely — before it drops its seeds. So don't wait, get CLOUT this weekend at a nice savings.

GOP Approval For Platform's Goals

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republicans roared approval early today of a platform pledging a new national leadership—under the GOP—will push "for a just peace in the world, for dependable progress for all our people, and for a new serenity and unity in this land."

With these words Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, performing as actor, orator and chairman of the platform-writing committee, won a final shout of endorsement after two hours of speeches at the national convention.

The leading presidential candidates—Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Gov. Ronald Reagan—already had bestowed their blessing on the manifesto which calls for peace without surrender and de-Americanization of the war in Vietnam and a crusade against crime and causes of social ills at home.

Michigan's Gov. George Romney took the podium to declare he had wanted a plank against excessive economic power in the hands of business and labor groups. But he then urged adoption without change of this "excellent platform" for the sake of avoiding a floor battle.

Later, just at the end of the night session, a Kingston, N.C., delegate, R. T. Hood Jr., pushed toward the rostrum with an undisclosed amendment. Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the convention chairman, ruled Hood had taken the floor too late to offer his plank. Hood would not tell newsmen what his proposal involved.

Instead of reading through all 13,000 words of the platform drafted by his 102-man committee last week, Dirksen roused the convention hall through right at the start by throwing on the floor what he indicated were set speeches.

Then the silver-haired senator launched into a 25-minute oration of his own, interrupted by applause more than a dozen times.

The 72-year-old Senate Republican leader lit into the Democratic administration of his sometimes close associate, President Johnson.

"Oh, how cynical, how mocking, that political slogan—'The Great Society,'" Dirksen exclaimed to Republican shouts.

"Never has an administration so disregarded the limits of our resources, our patience, our unwillingness—indeed, our inability—to police and sustain a bellicose and insatiable world. Open-hearted, yes open-handed, we long have been—but my friends, the time to reassess our generosity is now...."

"Never has the nation been so mired in debt—never its budget so bloated, the deficit so huge, the spending so unrestrained except in all-out war. Once upon a time people talked of the sky as the limit. Now we've been rocketed to fiscal outer space...."

"Must law-abiding citizens don bullet-proof vests safely to take an evening stroll?" Dirksen asked. "Must we avoid our great cities by night as if they were guerrilla-infested hamlets out in Vietnam?"

"No!" shouted the Republican delegates en masse.

"This ballyhooed 'Great Society,'" Dirksen continued, "the brainchild of an English socialist six decades ago—is not a New Deal—no, not even a Fair Deal; it's just a straight-out misdeal...."

Camp Session For 4-H Youths

Archery Lesson

Local 4-H Club members attending this year's 4-H camp at Camp Bob White, Knob Noster State Park are seen learning basic fundamentals in archery. These youngsters were given instruction by Ron Keyes, director of the archery program. Assisting him were 4-H junior leaders John DeMott and David Rages.

Pettis County 4-H Club members practicing their motto, "Learn by Doing" at this year's camp. Attending camp at Camp Bob White, Knob Noster State Park were 113 4-H members who learned many new skills by doing.

The 4-H Camp Committee, Mrs. Harold Gunn, Chairman; Mr. Ralph Grimes and Mrs. C. W. Monsees, used an Indian theme for the camp.

Original Indian dances and games were learned. Five junior leaders — Sharon Wissman, Connie Teter, Debbie Cook, Nancy Taylor and Connie Fischer — developed this part of the program. Also helping were Stephanie and Yvonne Gieschen, work-study students at the University Extension Center.

Rounding out the program was conservation and Indian artifacts.

Chester Vermaas, conservation agent, spoke to the youngsters on what conservation is and their role in helping. They were also shown a film on "The Small Mouth Bass." Irwin Lehmer told about the archaeological project being conducted along the Lamine River basin. He explained the history of the arrival of man in Pettis County and why the project is being conducted.

Daily swimming and ball were also part of the program. An impressive Indian vesper service and campfire were highlights of the camp.

Camp Director Ralph Grimes said he felt those going to camp learned much about Indian culture and had an enjoyable and educational experience. Also attending and assisting with the program were adult counselors, Mrs. Bud Kinder and Mrs. Ralph Withers.

By tradition, the bidder sitting nearest the rostrum gets the item in the event of equal bidding at an auction.

Young Nixons Are Sure of a Victory

By JEAN HELLER

Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With all those delegates about to cast all those votes, there was nothing in the world that could convince Richard M. Nixon's daughters that their candidate would do anything but sweep the convention.

In a sun-flooded hotel suite 17 floors above the Atlantic Ocean, Tricia and Julie Nixon and Julie's fiancé, David Eisenhower, sat on the edge of a bed and fairly bounced in anticipation of Republican National Convention action.

"We don't even talk in terms of polls and ballots any more," said Julie, 20. "We're going to win on the first ballot and we're going to win the election. Everybody should know that by now. We do."

The three of them look none the worse for wear after months of campaigning for Nixon, but admit readily that it's been a grueling job.

"I think we were almost killed outside the hotel," Julie said of a crushing demonstration by Nixon supporters outside his headquarters when the family arrived Monday evening.

"I've never been through anything like that, and I guess I could say honestly that I've been in politics a long time."

All her life, to be exact. Julie wasn't even born when Richard Nixon was first elected to Congress in 1946. Tricia, now 22, was only an infant.

He's been in and out of politics—mostly in—ever since, so both of his daughters have grown up in the campaign wars. They've been in four national campaigns and one gubernatorial battle, but none quite like this. Tricia, Julie and David joined forces this year in the Nixon cause, the girls as family campaigners and David as national chairman of Youth for Nixon.

"This (convention) battle has been the hardest fight in many ways," David said. "We've won it, though, and Humphrey can be beaten. There's no doubt about that."

The girls indicated agreement by bouncing on the bed.

"The thing that's been so exciting about this campaign," Tricia said, "is that we've been able to do something more than look sweet for cameras this time. We've been able to do more than watch Mom and Dad on television. We've been able, I hope, to do something to help the cause."

The trio has been so successful at its job that some conventioners here have started talking of David in terms of future candidate material.

"Oh, brother, they've got to be kidding!" David said, laughing at the prospect. "If anybody needs a campaign manager, I'd be happy to help, but be a candidate? I don't know about that."

"My real fun is in being a close observer without having the trials and tribulations of the man in the middle."

Shortage Reflected

BOSTON (AP) — The Red Cross says one bloodmobile recently obtained 100 pints of blood recently produced only 10 pints—and 6 of these were from its own staff. The agency says that's only one illustration of what it calls a serious statewide blood shortage affecting many hospitals. It says collections have dropped to less than 300 points daily compared to the 800 needed to meet hospital requirements.

William Thackeray wrote under the pseudonyms of Michael Angelo Titmarsh, James and Charles James Yellowplush.

"I think the day that may have subdued any political ambition of my own was the day I saw Mr. Nixon travel to Chicago, Milwaukee and Portland, Ore., make two telephone speeches from Portland, open a campaign headquarters, stand in a receiving line for three-and-a-half hours shaking hands then go back to his hotel to write speeches.

"Now that's a grind."

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half the drivers killed in single-vehicle crashes are drunk and drinking by drivers and pedestrians kills about 25,000 Americans a year, according to a broad federal study.

The Department of Transportation study concluded alcohol is the largest single factor in traffic deaths and said the most serious problem is heavy drinking, predominantly by men.

Drivers with extremely large amounts of alcohol in their blood, the report said, account for 50 to 55 per cent of all single-vehicle accidents killing drivers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists report they've developed an atomic prospector that can find gold, silver and other mineral deposits—and maybe underground water and oil as well.

The device sends neutron rays into the ground which cause the minerals to send identifiable rays back out, the Atomic Energy Commission and U.S. Geological Survey researchers said Monday in a report.

Separate male and female listings in the "Help Wanted" classified columns have been banned effective Dec. 1 by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Obvious cases, like advertising for female models, will be permissible but the burden of proof that discrimination is necessary will be on the employer.

The government is requiring state welfare agencies to inform all former and potential recipients denied federal aid under man-in-the-house rules that such rules have been struck down by the Supreme Court. Under the rules, aid was denied or limited for children of women living with men not their husbands.

Protest Launched In Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A creaking covered wagon hauled by two black mules and escorted by more than 70 denim-clad Negroes dripping with perspiration stopped Tuesday at the door of the Fontainebleau Hotel.

The Poor People's Campaign contingent, led by the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, picked this symbol of opulence along the Florida Gold Coast to launch efforts for a hearing by the Republican National Convention.

Abernathy led the group inside the gold-leafed, marble lobby where the chanting demonstrators confronted confused convention delegates and worried hotel staff members.

One of the chants went: "I may not stay in a hotel, but I am somebody—may not be a candidate, but I am somebody—I am a child of God."

Then, after a traffic-snarl march of more than a mile, the demonstrators arrived at Convention Hall. Abernathy obtained tickets to take his self-proclaimed "51st State of Hunger" past the fences and cordons of police.

While the people went inside, the mules were taken back to their stalls.

About 50 of the demonstrators sat quietly in the hall and listened as Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois presented the party platform.

Outside the hall, about 1,000 aging residents of the Miami Beach retirement neighborhoods carried signs reading: "GOP—Don't Forget Your Parents" and "Social Security No Longer Offers Us Security."

After Abernathy's followers were given tickets to the convention, Abernathy said he wanted to address the delegates. That request was not answered.

Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois said he supplied Abernathy two of the scarce tickets for admission to Convention Hall. Minutes later Abernathy said he had received 50 tickets from Ray C. Bliss, the Republican national chairman, through the help of Rep. Ogden R. Reid of New York and Clarence Townes, chairman of the GOP minorities committee.

The tickets were good only Tuesday but Reid said, "We'll make them good every day."

Tired Feet

Richard Nixon's "Nixonaires," colorfully-clad young girls who act as a "cheering squad" and honor guard for the former vice president, take of their shoes as (background) Nixon and his wife Pat, stand on the receiving line. Scene took place during reception given by Nixon for friends and delegates at the Hilton Plaza Hotel. Nixon and his wife shook hands on the receiving line for over 90 minutes as Nixon supporters attended the reception in droves. (UPI)

Demonstrator Run Over by Mule Team

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Don E. Williams was favoring his left leg today. A Southern Christian Leadership Conference demonstrator, he was run over by a covered wagon Tuesday night when a pair of mules bolted.

Williams, 22, of Savannah, Ga., was tending the mules—which later pulled the wagon to the GOP Convention Hall—when the animals broke for no apparent reason.

He was rushed to a hospital by ambulance and released after treatment for abrasions of the left leg.

Finds He Can Still Be Active

By BURL OSBORNE

Associated Press Writer
DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Six-year-old Lori Ann Lajoie didn't want her father to volunteer for Vietnam.

"You'll get killed," she said. Not so, said her father, a career Army man since he enlisted in 1949. "The only thing that might happen is maybe I'll lose a leg like Mommy did."

Lori Ann accepted that. Her mother had always had one artificial leg and had gotten along just fine. Lori saw nothing unusual about it.

So, explained Sgt. I.C. Vital Lajoie, that's how he happened to go off to war. That is, after the Army relented after rejecting his first four attempts to volunteer for combat.

Barely four months later, in the spring of 1967, Lajoie's war was over.

He returned to the United States with the Air Medal, Purple Heart with cluster, two Bronze Star citations and the Silver Star for "an inspiring display of personal bravery" and gallantry in action.

He also brought back fragmentation and bullet wounds from his almost daily encounters with the Viet Cong as a squad leader in Company B, 1st Battalion, 7th Cavalry.

He left behind his left leg. More than a year has passed and Lajoie is pressing ahead despite the loss of the leg and a shattering break that left the other three inches shorter.

He has taken training and civil service examinations for possible post office work. He just enrolled in a mechanic training course while awaiting a medical discharge from the Army.

Neither Lajoie, 36, from Danbury, Conn., nor his wife, who lost her left leg when she was struck by a car as a child of 7, seem to consider an artificial leg a handicap.

"Sometimes I'm concerned that I can't do the things I used to," he said. "But I see the things she can do and I know I'll be all right."

"I've never had any doubt I could do anything I wanted to do if I wanted to do it badly enough," said his wife. And that includes household chores and the care of two growing children, Lori, now 8, and Gilbert, 2.

Artificial legs don't cause much of a stir in the Lajoie household. "It doesn't bother either of the children or either of us," said Mrs. Lajoie, who comes from Sugar Creek, Mo. The family came to Denver to be with their father at the Army's Fitzsimons General Hospital.

Blistering Pace

Aussie Bill Emmerton began a 150-mile trek from desolate, heat-soaked Death Valley to Las Vegas early this week in air temperatures of 125 degrees and surface temperatures exceeding 135. Emmerton, who made the same journey in the relatively cool weather of early April, expects to arrive in Las Vegas Friday. This aerial photo was taken seven miles east of Furnace Creek, Calif., shortly after noon. (UPI)

Reagan Has A Quiet Assistant

By BILL BOYARSKY

Associated Press Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—

Nancy Reagan is busier than she was in her movie actress days as she quietly helps her husband run for the Republican presidential nomination, but there's no speechmaking for this mother of two.

Instead she spends her days at the Republican National Convention giving interviews in which she liberally praises California's Gov. Ronald Reagan.

She calls him Ronnie and admits she's sometimes concerned about his becoming president.

"The job is so tremendous, so awesome you do feel terribly sorry for the man who holds it," she said.

The Reagans came to the convention without their children, Skipper, 9, and Patti, 15. Skipper is at summer camp while Patti stays at the family home near Los Angeles, recovering from a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Reagan, 44, pretty and well-tailored, even brought her own hairdresser to the convention. His name is Julius, and the cost of flying him here from Los Angeles was shared with six friends of Mrs. Reagan at the convention.

A main concern is losing Secret Service protection for the family if Reagan is not nominated.

"I want to keep them and I've threatened all sorts of things, such as letting the air out of their tires," she said.

The Reagans met in 1951 when she was a young actress for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and he was an established star. They were married a year later.

Nancy is his second wife. Reagan's first wife was Jane Wyman, the actress, and they had two children, Michael and Maureen.

Reagan frequently sees them.

Who's Calling Whom Sick?

In recent times citizens have had their ears dinned with a redundant expression that "America is a sick society." In rare instances this has been challenged by thoughtful persons.

Coming to hand this week is a concise exception taken by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, commenting in the FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin:

"America is NOT a sick society. Let us stop condemning our whole populace for the sins of a few. Let us stop this nonsense of self-reproach and self-ridicule and throw off the guilt complex which threatens to envelop our country. When we face adversities and tragedies, let us do so with resolute confidence, avoid panic, and reserve judgment until all the facts are known.

"Historically, Americans are doers, not worriers. No country has ever done, or is doing, more for its own underprivileged citizens and for the unfortunate people of the world than the United States. Our record speaks for itself. We have no reason to be ashamed; indeed, we have much to be proud of. This is not to say that our society is infallible and has no problems. We do make mistakes, and we do have many great problems. But they are not insurmountable if we do not despair.

"Some of our difficulty today arises from the fact that too much attention is given to various dissident elements which have a lot of noisy energy but little purpose. Many of them are complaining about conditions which they helped to create. Now, they want our whole society to plead guilty to mass ineptness. This is ridiculous.

"A noted columnist, commenting recently on the guilt complex sweeping our country, said, 'I am tired of the hangdog American... a guy who lives in the greatest country on earth and feels he has to apologize for his own existence... The hangdog American is in danger of losing the fierce independence and self-pride of his pioneering ancestors. He is not only capitulating to his carping critics — he is becoming his own worst critic by doubting or distrusting his own obvious virtues: courage, ingenuity, loyalty, generosity, idealism. That is the worst thing that can happen to any man — to lose faith in himself.'

"To me, this makes sense. Courage, ability, and pride are hallmarks of success in any endeavor. A defeatist attitude is seldom associated with a winner or a leader. America is a world leader in the cause of justice, liberty, and the dignity of man. We have no reason to act or think as losers or second-rate citizens.

"It is time for Americans to shed their apologetic demeanor and stop belittling themselves. The hard-working, tax-paying, law-abiding people of this country are responsible for its growth and development. They provide the strength and resources which move our country forward. They aspire to the goals, principles, and ideals which are meaningful to all people. It is wrong to malign and accuse this vast group every time a crisis develops.

"No, our society is NOT sick. But, I suggest we check the pulse of the self-styled diagnosticians who see a social malady from every soapbox."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

GOP Plays Down Unethical Conduct

By DREW PEARSON

MIAMI — The question of ethical conduct has been played down at the GOP Convention, but it has been talked about a lot in the smoke-filled rooms. Republicans are wondering just how much the Democrats can make with Nixon's original $18,000 expense fund and the whopping $205,000 loan which his brother got, almost without security, and then defaulted on.

The press was generally kind to Nixon at the time, but some Democratic leaders have been looking forward to Nixon as the nominee so they can bring out the entire story of the $18,000 expense fund and show how it set the pattern for Sen. Tom Dodd and others.

The laws are clear that no Senator can accept money in return for doing a favor for a constituent. This was what was never developed during the Nixon furore. It was what Dodd, the Democrat, did, but which the Senate failed to investigate. It was what Nixon, the Republican, did, but both the Senate and the press failed to investigate.

If there had been an investigation it would have been most revealing. It would have shown that Dana Smith, who collected the $18,000 fund, had a personal tax case before the Justice Department involving a $500,000 tax refund that he was demanding from the government. Nixon sent a member of his office staff to the Justice Department's tax division to apply pressure on Smith's behalf.

In the summer of 1952 the same Dana Smith lost $4,000 on a gambling spree in a Havana nightclub, gave his check for that amount to the nightclub owner, and then stopped payment on the check. The owner sued to collect, whereupon Nixon wrote the American Ambassador in Cuba and asked that he intervene on behalf of Smith. The Ambassador replied that protecting gamblers was not among his official duties.

—Nixon's Conflict Record—

Among the 76 millionaires who kicked in to the Nixon fund were 15 oilmen, 11 real estate executives and a cross section of bankers, milk-products men and munitions and armaments contractors. All had heavy stakes in legislation on which Nixon voted. On issues of concern to the oilmen who contributed to his fund, Nixon voted their way down the line: against cutting the 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance, for the oil companies' basing point bill (facilitating price-fixing in monopoly-dominated industries and promoting concentration of industry), and for the tidelands oil bill. Nixon even sent out literature in favor of the tidelands bill under his Senate Frank on behalf of the oil companies.

Similarly, Nixon voted on housing bills in a way that obviously pleased his fund contributors from the building and real estate industry—in favor of reducing the number of public housing units provided (from 50,000 to 5,000 units in one bill), in favor of speeding up the expiration of wartime rent controls by four months, in favor of giving local communities the option to impose or lift rent controls around military installations and defense plants, and in favor of an amendment he himself introduced to a defense bill in 1951 aimed at sidetracking public housing. Some of his votes, it is safe to say, contributed to the decay of big cities only now being recognized as a national crisis.

None of this was investigated.

—Anderson Testifies—

The only man who raised the question of ethics publicly at Miami was Jack Anderson, who did most of the work in probing the conduct of Sen. Dodd and who has just written a book, "The Case Against Congress."

Jack testified before a subcommittee on the platform committee under the chairmanship of Gov. Louie Nunn of Kentucky. Twenty prominent republicans sat behind a table listening to the testimony. They were courteous but noncommittal.

"If the Republican Party is ever to get its platform enacted into law," Anderson testified, "it must be through a congress that plugs along on one cylinder in the multi-cylinder engine."

"The American people can hardly be expected to make sacrifices, overcome prejudices, and act nobly when their elected leaders set an example of pettiness, selfishness and irresponsibility."

Anderson called the roll of senior congressmen, most of them committee chairmen who sat at the helm — from Sen. Dodd, still chairman of the Juvenile Delinquency Committee and supposed to be a model for American Youth; to Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., whose "record of alcoholism would make him ineligible to empty waste paper baskets at the Pentagon."

"Aren't these all Democrats?" asked Gov. Nunn happily.

"Yes," replied Anderson, "but the chairman of your platform committee, Sen. Everett Dirksen, led the Senate fight against congressional reform."

"He owns shares in Chicago's First Federal Savings and Loan, but neglected to disclose this when he voted against the truth-in-lending bill which the savings and loan industry opposed."

Anderson went into more detail about the "delightful and disarming Dirksen" and his "dismaying habit of championing the Washington interests of clients that retain his Peoria law firm."

The platform panel listened carefully. Later they went into a closed-door session to polish up the rough draft previously written by their chairman, Everett Dirksen. The ritual of hearings had been held. Tradition had been satisfied. The platform, largely written in advance, could be revealed. Nothing about ethical conduct would be done.

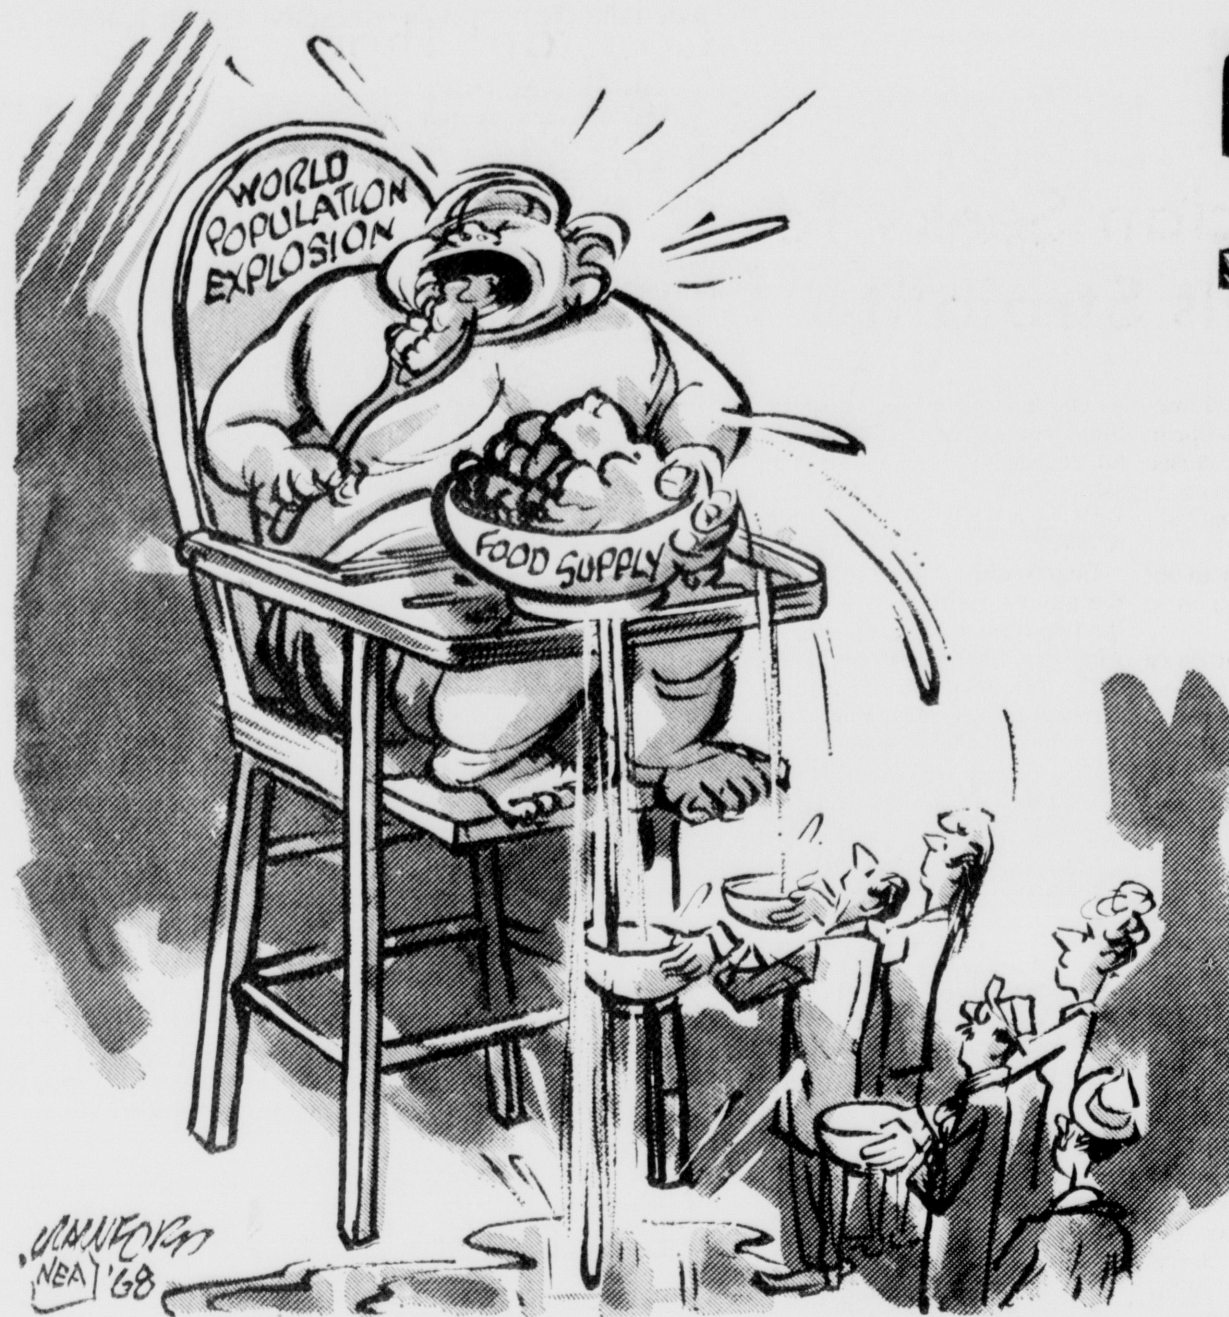

Air Bridge to Russia

Times Square and Red Square are now just 10½ hours apart—plus circling time waiting for a landing slot and commuting time to and from the airports.

Direct airline service between New York and Moscow (one round-trip U.S. flight a week, one Russian) would have come about long ago had it not been for cold-war animosities. Some may still fear that allowing Soviet Aeroflot planes to land on U.S. soil represents one more instance of the erosion of America's will to resist international communism, if it does not provide an actual expressway for spies and other nasty characters.

But we retain enough confidence in this country's intelligence services and the good sense of the general public to feel they can handle this new challenge. The situation works both ways, and the Kremlin faces a substantial increase in American tourists, with all capitalistic influences they may carry with them.

Coffee, tea or milk? Or vodka, borscht and caviar? You can now pay your money—a sizable chunk of it—and take your choice.

Feel Your Age or Lose It

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA) — By the time the month is over, the Democratic party will have picked a new standard-bearer to replace President Johnson. And so, no matter who wins the election, the Age of the Great Society will be over.

Speaking personally, it is very sad to see it end.

The older we get, the harder we find it to live through an entire Age and have to retool for the next. Most especially as there is never any advance indication of what the next Age will be.

In that regard, the Great Society has been a lush oasis in the desert of constant change, having lasted four years—an amazing record when it comes to recent Ages, Eras, Societies, Periods and Generations.

Since 1945, by actual count, we have lived through the Post-war Generation, the Beat Generation, the Silent Generation and the Pepsi Generation.

Also the Atomic Age, the Space Age, the Jet Age, the Plastic Age, the Age of Conformity and the Age of Anxiety.

Moreover, the Hippie Era, the Teeny Bopper Period, the Mod Age, the Camp Civilization, the Angry-Young-Men Decade, to say nothing of Op, Pop and the New Left.

Counting the Great Society, that averages out to just about one Age, Period, Generation or Decade per year.

By contrast, our forefathers had it quite easy.

George Washington, for example, had only three Periods to get through: Colonial, Federal and Chippendale.

Napoleon and Queen Victoria had only one Age each to survive.

And anybody born even a short century ago had to retool only four times—five at the most—for the Gilded Age, the Edwardian Era, the Jazz Age, the Lost Generation and, with luck, the Depression Decade.

Well, those simple days are gone, and probably for good. Nowadays, Ages speed by at an alarming rate. Youth is over at 18. Middle Age begins at 30. And what was once known as the "Prime of Life" is now only a brief moment and seldom recognized until it has whizzed past.

Just how this change in time came about is hard to understand. We had thought at first it was simply the fact that people were living longer nowadays, and consequently surviving more Ages.

But that is not the case at all. On closer inspection, we have discovered that the year is actually getting shorter.

The Mauve Decade, for example, lasted 15 years. The Turn-of-the-Century began in 1893 and finished in 1909. And, as every student of high school history knows, the 18th-Century began on Jan. 1, 1700, and did not end until June 18, 1815, at Waterloo.

In addition, not only did yesteryears last a lot longer, but many of them are not finished yet.

The Victorian Age is still quite alive, we notice, and so are the Harold Stassen Era, World War II, the Age of De Gaulle, the Early American and Ante Bellum Periods, the Roaring '20s Decade, and the John Wayne Era.

And, as any shut-in during the political conventions knows, the 19th Century is far from over.

As far as we can see, people aren't living longer nowadays. It just seems like it.

The Roman club as played by Belladonna and Avarelli is an artificial bid that shows a balanced 12 to 16 high card points. Belladonna, who is a law unto himself at the table, chose to shade it to 10 points on the hand shown here. The spiltball had the effect of shutting the Americans out.

Not that the American East didn't find a bid over the club opening. He bid two clubs to show his suit. Avarelli's two spade call was invitational but not forcing in the Roman system, and Belladonna had no problem about what to bid with his 10-point opening.

The defense started with a club lead and a club ruff. Avarelli still had to lose a diamond, two hearts and the ace of trumps, but down one was a mighty cheap save.

The United States North passed quite properly, whereupon the Italians proceeded to bid and make four hearts.

It is easy to see how the United States pair could have found their way to four hearts, in spite of the club opening bid, but it would almost require clairvoyance at the table. East had a good hand but how could he know that South had stabbed in spades and hit his partner with four card support and a nothing hand?

Furthermore, while East and West can make five hearts as the cards lie, and while the heart game would be reached without the club bid, the contract is not the sort that is sure to make. Suits don't have to break and the ace of diamonds doesn't have to show up in front of the king.

So we have to put this particular loss down to Italian luck plus Belladonna's decision to step out and make life difficult for his opponents.

BETTY CANARY
Real Charge
for Young

One of my favorite stories has always been about the time I picked up a carful of three-year-olds from nursery school and promised them (it MUST have been a very hot day) ice cream cones on the way home.

After ordering, I discovered my coin purse was not in my handbag and, as I dug into my pockets and their pockets, rifled the glove compartment and ran my hands under the car seats, one little boy kept saying helpfully, "If you don't have your checkbook, just charge it!"

His words were prophetic. That dairy bar now displays an enormous sign touting the perfect gift... a charge card for children. Now, could there be anything more ludicrous than a little kid carrying his own charge-a-cone?

My main concern is that, to a small child, flashing a piece of orange paper and getting a double chocolate means he is really getting the ice cream for nothing.

Much has been said about shoplifting and its causes. I recently read several articles on the topic and all pounded again and again on the theme of "children from affluent homes steal because they are rebelling against their parents."

I wonder if, perhaps, part of the stealing has occurred because the children have never handled money? Because everything seems to be "free?"

Supposedly there are some 23 million teenagers in this country every year. They have been sent to school on loans, driven there in an installment-plan car, wearing clothes bought on a revolving charge. They have seen delivery trucks roll to the door, but have they seen parents sitting up at night writing checks?

More and more businessmen are offering charge accounts to teen-agers (sometimes only if a parent cosigns) and the teen-ager gets the bill in his own home. I can see the problems this can bring, and yet I think it's a good idea. He is going to have to adapt to a bank-by-mail and buy-by-telephone world, so he has to learn about handling credit.

Sooner or later, chances are, he won't even see his paycheck. His company accounting department will deduct not only necessary taxes but will conveniently pay his bills for him before sending the residue off to his checking account.

There's one thing for sure. He's going to get a real charge out of that.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Survival Techniques
Can Save Your Life

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Survival techniques are very important, as witness the fact that of some 100,000 persons who die each year in natural disasters about 20,000 perish because they don't use known principles of survival. Let me cite two examples: A young man and his brother, while driving across the Great Salt Lake Desert, decided to explore the back country.

Their auto bogged down in the sand so they started to walk back to the highway, a distance of several miles. With the sun beating down on them, they discarded their shirts. They died of heat stroke before they reached help. Their first mistake was to try to cross the desert in a vehicle that was not equipped for this type of travel. Furthermore, they failed to carry water with them, abandoned their vehicle, which was spotted from the air before they were, and traveled in the heat of the day instead of waiting until dark.

Another family was traveling in the Grand Canyon area when their car failed. They were without food or water and the temperature was over 120 degrees. They rested in the shade of the car and the father cut strips from a blanket to make an SOS sign on the sand. He smeared motor oil on his spare tire and ignited it to make a smoke signal.

He also disconnected the rearview mirror so that he could signal an airplane if one should pass. He removed all four hub caps and used them to catch the early morning dew. The family ate some glue made of casein that they had brought along. Although they were badly dehydrated when they were found by a rescue party, all recovered from their ordeal.

Experts believe that in an emergency situation only about 25 per cent of persons remain calm and use their wits to improve their chances for survival. Survival is now taught in three Air Force schools. One specializes in jungle survival, one in arctic survival, and one in oceanic survival.

The underlying principle in all three courses is that human beings are capable of unbelievable endurance and can adapt to adverse conditions if they are taught to react properly. No matter how hostile a natural environment may seem to be, men have at one time or another been able to live in it for long periods if they were able to overcome their despair and feeling of hopelessness.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q—I was just divorced from my husband and am going back to work under my maiden name. Will I have to get a new social security number for tax purposes?

A—No, continue to use your present number and notify the Social Security Administration of the change in your name. This will facilitate crediting payments to your account.

A number of refunds were delayed in processing this year because taxpayers did not let Social Security know their name changed. Whether the change stems from marriage, divorce, adoption or other reason, taxpayers should make sure the change is noted in their social security account.

The Meo hill people of Laos believe they will sicken and die if they try to live at altitudes below 3,000 feet.

Water from Yellowstone Lake in Yellowstone National Park finds its way all the way to the Atlantic Ocean.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

FORTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Alice White, formerly proprietress of Hotel Liberty and the Liberty Cafeteria will open a cafeteria at La Moore Hotel where a large dining room affords a splendid location for such service.

NINETY YEARS AGO

One of the landmarks of Sedalia is fast disappearing. The old residence of Col. A.D. Jaynes, at the corner of Fourth street and Ohio, now the property of Mr. Wm. Latour, is being torn down to make way for a stately brick to be erected on its site.

Ann Landers

Beautician Seeks To Set Gals Straight

Dear Ann Landers: Please, please lend a helping hand to the hairdressers of America. I wonder how a woman who washes, irons and cleans all day would like to go to the home of a friend and do the friend's housework in the evening? My last three "dinner" invitations turned out to be requests for free beauty work. My cousin wanted a permanent, my aunt asked me to give her a bleach job and a neighbor needed a haircut, shampoo and set and "couldn't get downtown."

This evening a woman who used to live near us when I was a child dropped over to my home. (I hadn't seen her in a year.) She brought her hair clips, setting lotion and a hairnet — said I owed her a favor because once she cooked dinner for us kids when Mom was in the hospital. I couldn't refuse her, although I had been on my feet since 8:00 a.m. and my own hair needed shampooing but I was too tired to do it. Please print this letter, Ann. We abused hairdressers need someone to speak for us. Will you? — VARICOSE VICKIE

Dear Vic: I'd be happy to but in the final analysis you must speak for yourselves.

Each of you must put down his (or her) swollen foot and say to friends (?) and relatives who would take advantage of your tender-heartedness, "Sorry, no. I work hard all day and I can't work at night, too, or I'll collapse."

Dear Ann Landers: Is it so terrible for a 20-year-old girl to be in love with a boy 15? Before you jump to conclusions let me tell you that I look like 16 and Jerry looks like 18. I wear a size 8 dress and Jerry is six feet tall. My mother and dad tell me I'm crazy to be seen with this guy but they don't understand we are really in love. I've dated dozens of older fellows but nobody compares with Jerry. He sings and plays the guitar and when I am with him I forget all about his being a freshman in high school.

I've heard so many women at work complain because their husbands are too old and too tired that I believe a girl is smart to marry a man who is at least five years younger than she is. After all, Ann, when I am 30 Jerry will be 25. What do you have to say about this? — HEART AFIRE

Dear Afire: I say leave the kid alone before you hear from the Juvenile Protective Association. He may not be undersized but he is definitely underage. In some states you could get into trouble for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Dear Ann Landers: When a fellow is engaged and he drops off his fiancée at midnight and meets another chick you call him a bum. What would you call an engaged girl who does the same thing? — BIG DADDY WHO NEEDS A FAST ANSWER

Dear Daddy: I take it you're the guy whose fiancée is doing the two-timing. My answer is — why call her anything? Or better yet, why call her at all? Bow out now, Buddy. Your first markdown is the cheapest.

Constant Thought Is Given Price Controls

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Repeated references to mandatory wage-price controls by the Johnson administration have reminded business that while the prospects are played down the thinking about them has been almost constant.

The prospect of statutory controls is unlikely, for many months at least, and both industry and labor know it. The administration's repeated references, therefore, demonstrate more than anything its frustration in dealing with inflation, its lack of a vehicle for holding down wage-price increases.

This week Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz again returned to the subject, expressing his "very real" concern over inflation, insinuating that mandatory controls are a possibility, but adding, "I don't think the situation is out of hand."

This has been a recurring theme. Washington's statements sometimes have been enigmatic enough to cast doubt on what is meant. But one meaning for sure is that the idea of mandatory controls has been explored, very likely with a negative conclusion.

Last November, for example, the secretary answered "poppycock" to a reporter's question regarding the probability of stiff controls. Clear enough.

A few weeks later, in answer to another reporter's question, Wirtz stated: "We're not even in the ballpark as far as considerations of controls is concerned." Again clear.

At about the same time, President Johnson introduced the subject in a talk to the Business Council. Voluntary restraints have made involuntary controls unnecessary, he said, adding, "to this point."

But a few weeks later, contrary to previous assertions, the secretary stated on a television program that "in the absence of a tax increase it would become necessary to consider wage and price controls."

Almost immediately, Johnson told newsmen he did not "hold to the view that wage or price controls are imminent at all." Later Wirtz issued a clarification.

These repeated references, even though sometimes negative and in answer to questions, seem to indicate that the subject of mandatory controls has been considered quite seriously. But it was felt also that they were simply part of the maneuverings considered necessary to get a tax bill passed.

But now, even though the tax issue has been settled with a 10 per cent surcharge on corporate and personal income taxes, the secretary has spoken again.

There are, he said, three ways to control inflation: Wage-price controls, unspecified steps that would cause higher unemployment, and third, the use of voluntary restraints.

More unemployment obviously is unacceptable as a permanent solution, although many jobs will indeed be lost through the recent income tax increase. Private restraints as a means of control, it was insinuated, could be failing.

This leaves the use of mandatory controls as the only certain method of the three in preventing inflationary wage-price increases.

However, despite threats, warnings or suggestions, this course is hardly open to the administration. Before the President can act he must obtain legislation from Congress, and such a request is unlikely, barring unforeseen turns.

Improved Conditions Are Urged

By JACK MILLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare secretary Wilbur J. Cohen says integration may be a generation away in many northern city school systems and the goal in the meantime should be to improve conditions in black neighborhoods.

"I think we have to be realistic," the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare said. "In a large number of big-city areas we have a lot of neighborhoods that are going to be completely black."

But, he said, "if we can have good schools and good police protection (in such areas), maybe that's better than having fear and riots. And maybe another generation will have to deal with integration."

Cohen also said in an interview that busing of students between slum and other neighborhoods is not the answer to desegregating school systems.

"I have never thought that busing was a very large-scale answer to this problem and I don't think most people do," he said. "I don't see it as more than a temporary expedient. Over-all, nationally, it is not the answer."

Asked whether his assessment means that greater emphasis should be placed on making Negro schools better, he said: "Yes, I think so."

Cohen called for expansion of the $1-billion-a-year program of federal education aid to poor youngsters.

The secretary also said that his department plans to "step up very substantially and materially" its program to assure equal educational opportunities for Negro children in Northern schools.

The Northern program, begun early this year, is an extension of HEW's civil rights compliance efforts in Southern school systems.

Cohen acknowledged that expansion of the Northern program would be required under provisions inserted by Southerners in a bill pending before Congress. The provision would require HEW to assign as many school civil rights investigators to the North as it does to the South.

He said, however, that the department planned to expand the northern program anyway.

Biafrans Demand Help

Biafran women wave placards and chant slogans during a demonstration in London against British aid to Nigeria and failure to provide food for starving Biafrans in the Nigeria-Biafra civil war.

At the end of the demonstration, they presented a petition at 10 Downing Street, the headquarters of Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Dirksen Rouses Delegates

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — John Wayne, the elder statesman, gave way to Everett McKinley Dirksen, the old prairie actor, and the Republican National Convention came alive last night.

Rising up from the tundra of tedium and the rhetoric of rigor mortis, it was Dirksen, United States senator, Senate GOP leader, Convention Platform Committee chairman, marigold musketeer, recording star, Peckin's peerless apostle of the new politics of the age of Elizabeth I, who gave the delegates their first incisive lesson in the arts of elocution, execution and electrification (rural).

They began by giving him a roaring hand and he began by saying, "I accept the nomination." It was the first joke to emanate from this year's podium. Theater critics, allegedly Democrats, predicted it would not be the last.

The delegates laughed and continued to make noise. Dirksen turned alternately imperious, menacing, cajoling, bargaining.

"Quiet!" he thundered, jowls quivering, silver rivulets of hair flailing, like that of an aroused Zeus.

And still there was no quiet. He held up nine pounds of speech texts.

"If you'll be quiet for 45 minutes," said Everett McKinley Dirksen, the beguiling negotiator, "I'll throw these speeches anywhere you want me to throw them."

And then he did, nine pounds of speeches, right over the speaker's platform, into the hearts of the peasants. While it was not precisely clear whose speeches had been jettisoned, it was obvious Dirksen still had his.

Now the delegates were quiet and the Peckin Pericles, rising slowly from the Armageddon tones of his basso profundo, began. "In Philadelphia 181 years ago, far-seeing men fashioned us a revolutionary new government..."

He dared Russia to knock the chip off his shoulder.

"A Soviet leader declaims that ours is a rotten, decadent society. God forbid our having to make the point but, should he try us, he'll quickly find out what Americans really are!"

The delegates roared. Membrane by membrane, Dirksen peeled off the skin of "The Great Society," stretching out each syllable of the phrase in a mockery of rubber.

"Oh, how cynical, how mocking that political slogan!... Never has an undeclared war embroiled America so long. ... Never our prestige so low, our alliances so weakened, our image so impaired. ... Never has the nation been so mired in debt. ... Now we've been rocketed to fiscal outer space. ...

"Great Society indeed! ... It is not a New Deal or a Fair Deal. It's just a straight-out Misdeal. Humor it longer, and it will destroy what the Founding Fathers wrought."

Pub Pageantry Is Turning to Politics

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The dancers are going GOP-a-go-go.

Backsides and bosoms have become bouncing political billboards, emblazoned with NIXON, ROCKY and REAGAN in an eye-catching bit of pub pageantry not officially part of the Republican National Convention program.

The torso of one go-go dancer in a Miami Beach bistro is decorated with an undulating elephant, the trunk of that traditional Republican symbol curled around her navel.

Other dancers already revealing support for ROCKY and NIXON in the obvious places are at a loss on how to bring their political policies abreast of Reagan's entry into the race.

The greasepaint politics is sometimes less than pure at heart.

"I don't like Nixon, so I dance like this," said one girl as she put her hand on her right hip to cover the spot where she carries his name.

On another girl's back dances a show of Democratic defiance: "LBJ Lives."

Voluntary church offerings for the support of the Pope are called "Peter's pence."

More Tests Scheduled For Johnson

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN Tex., (AP) — President Johnson will undergo more medical tests before there is any official word on results of his annual physical checkup.

Johnson spent five hours Tuesday at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, then returned to his ranch home 35 minutes away by helicopter.

Press secretary George Christian said the chief executive would make a brief return trip to the hospital today or Thursday for final tests requiring an overnight fast.

Mrs. Johnson, also having a checkup at Brooke, remained there Tuesday night. Her examination was being completed today.

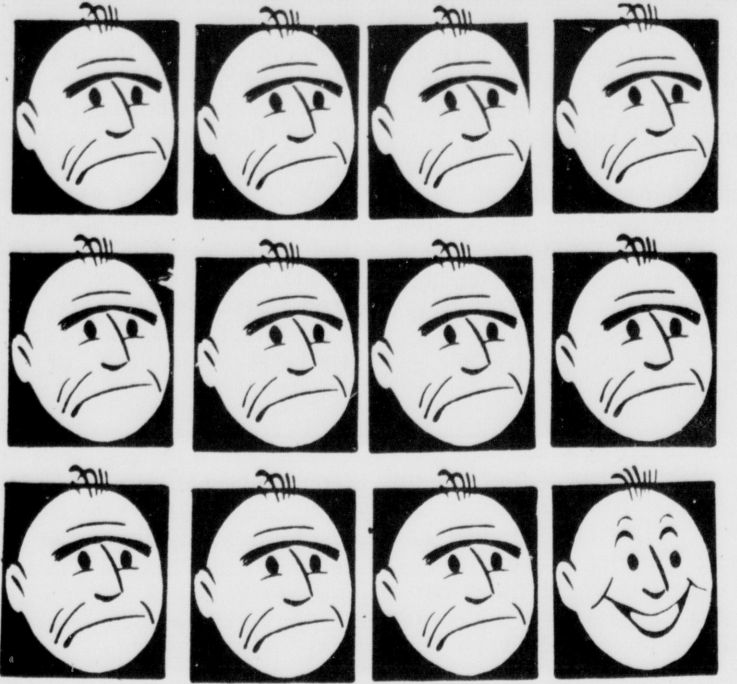

Christian said a public report on the President's health would be issued later by Johnson's personal physician, Vice Adm. George G. Burkley.

The chief executive's tests were described by Burkley as "in general keeping with the policy I have followed for the President's annual physical examination."

The President is expected to spend much of the next month at the LBJ ranch, near Johnson City some 65 miles west of here.
